BRIERTY ACHIEVES BACK-TO-BACK AWARD FOR ENVIRONMENTAL MANAGEMENT

Civil and mining contractor Brierty Limited (ASX: BYL) has won the Environmental Management System award at the SAI Global Systems Excellence Awards for the second year running.

The award recognised Brierty's outstanding environmental performance and demonstrated ability to consistently meet and exceed required standards.

Brierty Managing Director Peter McBain said winning back-to-back awards was testament to the Company's ability to deliver on its objective of being an industry leading contractor that successfully delivers on projects in an environmentally conscious manner.

"We believe that our business must be environmentally sustainable and this award is an acknowledgement of our mission to be an industry leader," Mr McBain said.

"It also reinforces and strengthens our ability to tender, win and deliver on significant, competitive and environmentally challenging projects.

We employ stringent industry best practice risk management processes that go beyond the global standards in order to preserve and protect the environment.

Companies issuing tenders are placing increased scrutiny on the environmental performance of their contractors. Winning this award for the second year running highlights Brierty's performance in this area."

Brierty prides itself on taking an innovative approach to deliver environmentally sustainable outcomes. The Company has developed effective relationships with waste service providers endeavouring to streamline waste management, and recently had great success using recycled concrete roadbase in constructing several long-term car parks at its Perth Airport projects.

Brierty was accredited with ISO 14001 – Environmental Management system in 2004 and has since been actively promoting environmental management to create a culture of compliance among staff.

Mr McBain said he believed the certification had enhanced Brierty's capability for robust environmental planning and implementation, especially for legal and other requirements that are crucial for business success.
