Notice of compulsory acquisition

Kingsgate Consolidated Limited (ASX: KCN) ("Kingsgate") refers to its off-market takeover offer for certain securities in Laguna Resource NL (ASX: LRC) ("Laguna") which closed on 13 January 2012 ("Offer").

As a result of acceptances of the Offer Kingsgate became a "90% holder" of Laguna "Equity Participation Shares" for the purposes of section 664A(2) of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth). Kingsgate now proposes to compulsorily acquire those Equity Participation Shares in accordance with section 664A(3) of the Corporations Act.

Enclosed, pursuant to section 664C(2) of the Corporations Act, is a copy of a compulsory acquisition notice, a copy of an independent expert's report in relation to the Equity Participation Shares and a copy of an objection form. A copy of the notice was given to the Australian Securities & Investments Commission today. Personalised notices, the independent expert's report and the objection form will be sent to affected securityholders today.

Yours sincerely,

Ross Coyle
Company Secretary

Subject: Valuation of Equity Participation Shares

Dear Sirs

Background

- 1 On 31 October 2011 Kingsgate Consolidated Limited (Kingsgate) announced an off-market takeover offer for all the issued fully paid ordinary shares and certain partly paid shares of Laguna Resources NL (Laguna) not already owned by Kingsgate (the Offer). The consideration under the Offer was as follows:
 - (a) $3.75 cash for each Laguna fully paid ordinary share
 - (b) $0.001 cash for each Type 1 Laguna Partly Paid Share (as defined in Kingsgate's Bidder's Statement related to the Offer dated 2 November 2011)
 - (c) $0.0055 cash for each Type 2 Laguna Partly Paid Share (as defined in Kingsgate's Bidder's Statement related to the Offer dated 2 November 2011).
- 2 Laguna is a mineral exploration company focused on the exploration and development of gold and silver projects in the Maricunga District of Northern Chile. Laguna's shares are listed on the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) but are likely to be delisted during the course of the compulsory acquisition process or shortly thereafter.
- 3 At the time of the Offer Kingsgate held a relevant interest in 69.9% of Laguna's ordinary shares. This interest was acquired pursuant to a previous takeover offer which closed on 15 February 2011.
- 4 The Offer was successful with Kingsgate having a relevant interest in 98.14% of bid class securities on issue as at 12 January 2012. This interest will allow Kingsgate to compulsorily acquire all remaining bid class securities.

- 5 In addition to the above securities, Laguna has 18,306 Equity Participation Shares (EPS) on issue. No separate offer was made for these securities at the time of the recent Offer. However, Kingsgate now wishes to compulsorily acquire these shares and has proposed a purchase price of 1 cent per EPS.
- 6 As at the date of this report the total number of shares on issue in Laguna and the extent to which they are owned by Kingsgate is shown below:

	Number held by Kingsgate	Total on issue
Fully paid ordinary	9,719,669	9,901,751
Partly paid – Type 1	68	1,029
Partly paid – Type 2	25	764
EPS	-	18,306

Scope

- 7 Under Section 664A of the Corporations Act, Kingsgate may compulsorily acquire the EPS and must include with the Compulsory Acquisition Notice an expert's report under Section 667A.
- 8 Consequently, the Directors of Kingsgate have requested that we prepare an independent expert's report which sets out our opinion on:
- (a) the fair value of the EPS, pursuant to Section 667C of the Corporations Act;
 - (b) whether the terms proposed in the Compulsory Acquisition Notice give a "fair value" for the EPS; and
 - (c) whether Kingsgate has full beneficial ownership in at least 90% by value of all the securities of Laguna that are shares or convertible into shares.

Terms of the EPS

- 9 EPS were issued to employees and directors of Laguna and are partly paid up. Upon completion of three years service with Laguna or a change of control transaction the holder can apply to have the shares "converted" to fully paid ordinary shares by paying up the unpaid amount.
- 10 Kingsgate has been unable to provide us with the precise details of the amounts paid up and owing on the EPS. However, based on the records available we have been instructed that:
- (a) the EPS were originally issued at prices of up to 25.5 cents per share (although it is possible that some EPS could have been issued at higher amounts). Because of a subsequent 1 for 25 share consolidation and a 1 for 125 share consolidation, the adjusted issue price (on a post share consolidation basis) is now up to $796.88 per share¹

¹ Being 25.5 cents multiplied by 25, multiplied by 125 (to allow for the impact of the share consolidations).

- (b) the EPS were originally paid up to only 1 cent per share (prior to the abovementioned share consolidations)
- (c) Laguna has no record of any EPS holder paying up any additional amount on the EPS
- (d) even if the amount unpaid was only 1 cent per share prior to the share consolidations, the minimum unpaid amount would now be $31.25 per EPS². However, it appears that some EPS could have unpaid amounts of up to $765.63 per EPS³.

11 We also understand that the EPS have:

- (a) no dividend rights
- (b) limited voting rights, in that they only have voting rights “in respect of resolutions changing or having the effect of changing the members of the board where the directors believe that there must be a change in control of the company; or where shares are allotted and issued to persons after 24 April 2002”. Further, in such circumstances the EPS only entitle the holder to the right to vote at any general meeting in proportion to the amount paid up on the EPS
- (c) no right to receive a distribution in excess of the amount paid up on the shares at the time of winding up.

12 Further, we understand that Laguna has no rights to redeem the EPS if they are not converted, as EPS are perpetual. However, pursuant to Section 254P of the Corporations Act, Laguna can make a call on EPS holders requesting that the unpaid amount owing on the EPS be paid⁴.

Basis of Assessment

Section 667C of the Corporations Act

13 Section 667C (1) of the Corporations Act sets out the steps for determining the “fair value” of securities, as follows:

- “(a) first, assess the value of the company as a whole; and
- (b) then allocate that value among the classes of issued securities in the company (taking into account the relative financial risk, and voting and distribution rights, of the classes); and
- (c) then allocate the value of each class pro rata among the securities in that class (without allowing a premium or applying a discount for particular securities in that class).”

² Being 1 cent multiplied by 25, multiplied by 125 (to allow for the impact of the share consolidations).

³ Being 24.5 cents multiplied by 25, multiplied by 125 (to allow for the impact of the share consolidations).

⁴ The consequences for EPS holders of not paying a call are discussed further below.

14 In addition, Section 667C(2) of the Corporations Act states that:

“Without limiting subsection (1), in determining what is fair value for securities for the purposes of this Chapter, the consideration (if any) paid for securities in that class within the previous six months must be taken into account.”

Fair value

15 “Fair value” is not defined in the Corporations Act. However, the weight of judicial authority is that an expert should not reflect:

- (a) “special value” that might accrue to an acquirer; or
- (b) any premium for forcible divestment.

16 Consequently, we have valued the EPS by reference to the standard definition of value which is “fair market value”.

17 Fair market value is normally defined as the price which would be negotiated in an open and unrestricted market between a knowledgeable, willing but not anxious buyer and a knowledgeable, willing but not anxious seller acting at arm’s length.

The value of the company as a whole

18 Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) Regulatory Guide 111 “Content of Expert Reports” outlines the appropriate methodologies that a valuer should consider when valuing assets or securities for the purposes of, amongst other things, share buy-backs, selective capital reductions, schemes of arrangement, takeovers and prospectuses. These include:

- (a) the discounted cash flow (DCF) methodology
- (b) the application of earnings multiples appropriate to the businesses or industries in which the company or its profit centre’s are engaged, to the estimated future maintainable earnings or cash flows of the company, added to the estimated realisable value of any surplus assets
- (c) the amount that would be available for distribution to shareholders in an orderly realisation of assets
- (d) the quoted price of listed securities, when there is a liquid and active market and allowing for the fact that the quoted market price may not reflect their value on a 100% controlling interest basis
- (e) any recent genuine offers received by the target for any business units or assets as a basis for valuation of those business units or assets.

- 19 We note that the Independent Expert which was appointed by Laguna to opine on whether the Offer was fair and reasonable⁵ concluded that:
- (a) the value of Laguna on a net asset basis was between $17.7 million to $40.6 million, with a preferred value of $28.5 million⁶
 - (b) the value of Laguna based on a review of ASX trading in its shares prior to the Offer, adjusted to reflect an appropriate takeover premium, ranged from $21.4 million to $29.6 million.
- 20 The Offer by Kingsgate implied a value for the whole company of approximately $37.1 million, and was therefore toward the upper end (or above) the valuation ranges assessed by the Independent Expert.
- 21 However, in our opinion, more regard should be had to the price paid by Kingsgate in its recent takeover offer. This is because the Offer was successful and resulted in Kingsgate increasing its relevant interest in Laguna from 69.9% to over 98%, and is therefore the best indicator of Laguna's value. Accordingly, in our opinion, it is appropriate to adopt a value for the company (i.e. Laguna) as a whole of $37.1 million.

The fair value of the EPS

- 22 From a commercial perspective the value of an EPS is a function of the value of a fully paid ordinary share. This is because the holder of an EPS has limited voting rights and no dividend rights until such time as the EPS are converted to a fully paid ordinary share.
- 23 Our assessed value of Laguna as a whole implies a value for the fully paid ordinary shares in Laguna of $3.75 per share. This is consistent with the Offer price under the most recent takeover offer from Kingsgate.
- 24 As stated above the unpaid amount owing on each EPS is no less than $31.25 per share. Accordingly, the value of Laguna fully paid ordinary shares would have to increase significantly from $3.75 to above $31.25 (or more) in order for each EPS to be worth converting. In fact, even if the value of a fully paid ordinary share in Laguna increased by 10% per annum (compounded), it would take over 22 years before it would be worth converting those EPS with unpaid amounts of $31.25 per share. EPS with higher unpaid amounts per share would take even longer before they would be worth converting.
- 25 In the meantime no return is paid on the EPS as they have no dividend rights. While they have some entitlements on a winding up, such an outcome is considered unlikely given Kingsgate's ownership.

⁵ The Independent Expert's Report was dated 16 November 2011.

⁶ These values were assessed based on an independent market valuation of Laguna's exploration assets by a technical mining consultant.

- 26 Further, Laguna could make a call on the EPS at any time for the full amount unpaid on the shares pursuant to Section 254P of the Corporations Act. Should this occur holders of EPS would have 14 days to pay the call⁷. However, for the reasons stated above, it would not be economically rational for EPS holders to pay such a call.
- 27 As Laguna is a “no liability” company, EPS holders are not liable for outstanding calls. However, if calls are not paid the shares are forfeited and sold, with the proceeds applied to pay:
- (a) first, the expenses of the sale
 - (b) then, any expenses necessarily incurred in respect of the forfeiture; and
 - (c) then, the calls on the share that are due and unpaid⁸.
- 28 While the balance (if any) is paid to the holder of the shares forfeited, in our opinion, it is clear that EPS holders would not receive any payment due to the high unpaid amount per share.
- 29 Accordingly, we have concluded that the EPS have no material value, and have therefore assessed their value at less than 1 cent per EPS.

Comparison with proposed offer price

- 30 As stated above, Kingsgate has proposed a purchase price of 1 cent per EPS in the Compulsory Acquisition Notice.
- 31 As the proposed consideration is above our assessed valuation range, in our opinion, the terms proposed in the Compulsory Acquisition Notice give a fair value for the EPS.

Kingsgate’s beneficial ownership

- 32 As set out in paragraph 7 you have also requested that we provide our opinion on whether Kingsgate has full beneficial ownership in at least 90% by value of all securities of Laguna that are shares or convertible into shares.
- 33 For the purposes of this calculation we have adopted:
- (a) values for Laguna fully paid ordinary shares and partly paid ordinary shares equal to the prices paid by Kingsgate in the Offer
 - (b) a value for the EPS of 1 cent per share (on the basis that, in our opinion, the value of such shares is less than 1 cent per share).

⁷ Source: Section 254P of the Corporations Act.

⁸ Source: Section 254Q of the Corporations Act.

- 34 On this basis Kingsgate's full beneficial interest in Laguna securities by value is 98.16%, calculated as follows:

	Number held by Kingsgate	Total on issue	Value per share $	Value of securities held by Kingsgate $	Total value of securities $
Fully paid ordinary	9,719,669	9,901,751	3.75	36,448,758	37,131,566
Partly paid – Type 1	68	1,029	0.001	-	1
Partly paid – Type 2	25	764	0.0055	-	4
EPS	-	18,306	0.01	-	183
Total				36,448,758	37,131,754
Percentage of value held by Kingsgate				98.16%⁽¹⁾

Note:

1 Being $36,448,758 divided by $37,131,754.

Yours faithfully
