ASX Limited

Dear Sir,

Appointment as Distributors of Aigo and Nitho

Wintech Group Ltd is pleased to advise that its wholly owned subsidiary Magnafield Technology Distribution Pty Ltd has been appointed as the principal distributor for the Aigo and Nitho range of products for Australia.

Aigo is a high-tech company headquartered in Beijing and is a leading manufacturer of electronic products for consumer and professional markets. Its products include portable storage devices, MP3 players, peripherals, and many other newly developed products like MP4 players, MP5 players, digital cameras, Mobile Internet Device (MID), solar chargers, digital photo frame, digital portable TV, digital microscope, and aigopen. Last year the company recorded consolidated annual sales of approximately $2 billion RMB (AUD 367 million).

Nitho is a leader in the gaming accessories industry. It was founded in 1991 and it is based in northern Italy. The company has on production many innovative items and the latest entertainment devices, accessories and peripherals for the entertainment and the game industry.

Nitho has 3 main divisions:

1. Games, dedicated to the accessories for videogames consoles (such Nintendo Wii™, Sony PS3™ and Microsoft Xbox 360™) and PC gaming peripherals;
2. Electronics, dedicated to the electronic entertainment accessories and in particular to iPod and multimedia devices;
3. Fun, electronic and licensed toys.

Diversifying into accessories for the entertainment and games industry is part of Magnafield's strategy to focus on products which can yield a higher margin.

To build on this business the company will set up dedicated sales teams and establish new channels of distribution.

“The size of the market for these products in Australia is estimated to be $2 billion and we expect to be able to generate over $20 million in revenue from these products in the first year of distribution” says Kon-ming Tsai, Product Manager of Magnafield.
