Press Release

CEO Wilfried Van Assche leaves Brussels Airport

Brussels Airport, 9 September 2009 - The Brussels Airport Company today announced that Wilfried Van Assche has offered his resignation as Chief Executive Officer of Brussels Airport. The Board of Directors accepted this with immediate effect.

Wilfried Van Assche became CEO of Brussels Airport in November 2005. During his tenure, the airport expanded its commercial activities and was able to attract several new carriers and expand its routes and services.

Luc Van den Bossche, Chairman of Brussels Airport comments: "We would like to thank Wilfried for his commitment in developing and growing the airport over the past four years and wish him well for the future."

A search process for his replacement will be started up immediately. In the interim period, the Executive Committee which has representatives of the major shareholder and the local Management Team, will be in charge.

About Brussels Airport

Brussels Airport is one of the largest airports in Europe, handling well over 18.5 million passengers and 661,100 tons of freight annually. Brussels Airport links the European capital with 200 destinations worldwide that are served by 100 different airlines: 80 passenger airlines and 20 full-freighter airlines. Brussels Airport is dedicated to become the most European, most efficient and most welcoming airport in Europe. Brussels Airport caters for the specific needs of the business travellers, but also has the largest low-fare offer in Belgium.

Brussels Airport is operated by The Brussels Airport Company. The shareholders are the Belgian State (25 percent) and a consortium of investors headed by Macquarie Airports (75 percent).

Over 260 companies and services are active at Brussels Airport. Together they employ nearly 21,000 staff.
