

Serko partners with 2degrees to help mobilise small business travel

New Zealand telecommunications provider to recommend serko.travel to its SME customers

Auckland, New Zealand. 30th September 2016 – Serko Ltd. \(SKO.NZ\) A leader in online travel booking and expense management, has announced a new referral partnership with 2degrees, that will see the New Zealand telecommunications provider recommend serko.travel to its small business customers in New Zealand.

2degrees launched on 4 August 2009 and is New Zealand's fastest growing full service telecommunications provider.

Darrin Grafton, Serko CEO said "We're really pleased to be able to work with 2degrees on this initiative. 2degrees have been in the business segment for five years, have a strong customer base and with travel management becoming increasingly mobile, 2degrees is a great partner to be working with. As a free-to-use travel management system designed specifically for SMEs in NZ, we have a unique opportunity to create value for everyone involved."

Serko.travel launched in New Zealand on 25 July, giving small businesses access to the same travel booking technology and deals as larger corporations. The free application allows travelers to search, book and manage complete business trips involving multiple suppliers all in one place, and via mobile or desktop.

Businesses in New Zealand and Australia can find out more and sign up right now at www.serko.travel.
