David Binnie, GM Supply to leave Z Energy

Z Energy Limited (NZX/ASX: ZEL) ("Z") confirm that David (Dave) Binnie, General Manager Supply will be leaving Z during the fourth quarter of the FY22 financial year.

Mike Bennetts Z's CEO commented, "Around the executive table, Dave has been an inquiring and supportive colleague who is happy to play a team role doing what is best for Z. Under his leadership Z's supply chain has been transformed."

Dave joined Z in September 2014 and has helped transition Z from domestic crude refining to an import supply chain in 2022. He led the integration of the Caltex and Z supply chains and moving the management of terminals in-house. Dave has been instrumental in establishing the Bulk Fuels operations as well as establishing local biofuel production and simplifying Z's supply chain.

"Dave has consistently demonstrated his commitment to safe and reliable operations, and he has also been a champion of inclusion and diversity. We wish him well for his next role and thank him for his outstanding contribution to Z.

Z's ongoing succession planning means that there are suitable internal candidates for this role and Z expects to make an appointment before the end of this year," Mike added.
