Skellerup adopts ESG World Platform

Skellerup has adopted the ESG World Platform to allow shareholders and stakeholders to readily review Skellerup's ESG practices in relation to the various frameworks operating across the world.

David Mair, Skellerup CEO noted the platform complements the activities and projects that Skellerup share in its Annual Report to shareholders each year. Mair said "We work closely with customers to innovate and grow. To do this successfully we develop and invest in our people, minimise waste and contribute to the communities and environments in which we operate. We will continue to report on new initiatives and will update the ESG World platform for changes we make. We remain focused on building long term sustainable value for our shareholders, customers, our people, partners and the communities we operate in across the world."

Skellerup's ESG profile can be found on our website under the "Investors" tab. The database allows stakeholders to review Skellerup's ESG practices. Viewers can download ESG-related reports from the portal.

Skellerup designs, manufactures and distributes essential high-performance components to customers around the world. Our products are trusted across dairy, potable and waste water, roofing and construction, sport and leisure, electrical, health and medical, automotive and mining sectors globally.
