Sealegs Successful Copyright Judgment Update

The successful judgement that Sealegs won against Orion Marine, Smuggler Marine, Stryda Marine and others has been reissued with more specific amendments defining the Sealegs copyright works which were infringed.

The judgment has also been expanded to cover the restraint of offering for sale, completing the sale, manufacture or display of the Orion S25-3WD and/or Orion S25-4WD external amphibious assemblies and any substantial copies of those assemblies by Orion Marine, Smuggler Marine, Stryda Marine and others.

The amendments to the judgement and the court order restraints placed on the defendants who infringed Sealegs copyright now gives further protection to Sealegs amphibious designs in the marketplace.

As the world's leading amphibious system manufacturer Sealegs continues to invest and develop its innovative and unique amphibious technology and recently released the fourth-generation of its electric amphibious system.
