Senior management changes

Metro Glass today announced that Dean Brown, Metro Glass' North Island General Manager will be leaving the company with effect from 7 December 2017 to pursue other opportunities. Chief Executive Nigel Rigby said "I would like to thank Dean for his efforts and contribution to the company over the past 2.5 years."

The company is focussed on growing its management bench strength and execution capabilities, and as part of this promoted three managers to the New Zealand senior leadership team earlier this year. The North Island Regional General Manager position will not be filled going forward with these responsibilities being redistributed on a functional basis within the expanded senior leadership team.
