SPARK INFRASTRUCTURE TO EXIT ITS ECONOMIC INTEREST IN DUET GROUP

Spark Infrastructure announces the outcome of its review of its economic interest in DUET Group (ASX:DUE) (DUET).

Following the change in DUET's business composition resulting from the acquisition of Energy Developments Limited in July 2015 and Spark Infrastructure's successful acquisition of its 15.01% stake in TransGrid in December 2015, the Board of Spark Infrastructure has decided to exit its 10.6% economic interest in DUET over a period of time.

Spark Infrastructure has agreed with Deutsche Bank to unwind the majority of its derivatives position in DUET. As a result, Spark Infrastructure has divested 8% of its economic interest in DUET, taking advantage of the current strength in the price of DUET securities.

The price obtained for this initial unwind component was $2.25 per DUET security.

Spark Infrastructure's residual economic interest in DUET will be unwound in due course with the objective of maximising proceeds.

The transaction will enable Spark Infrastructure to accelerate the planned repayment of its corporate debt facilities commenced earlier this year.
