

NETCOMM WIRELESS APPOINTS LEADING ASIAN TELCO TO MARKET M2M PRODUCTS

31 March 2015 (Sydney): NetComm Wireless Limited (ASX: NTC) today announced an agreement to market its Machine-to-Machine (M2M) products and services to enterprise customers through Singtel. This arrangement will provide enterprises with custom solutions for complex M2M applications across a range of vertical sectors.

NetComm Wireless will supply wireless M2M products that expand Singtel's offering by enhancing vertical specific capabilities in areas such as utilities, healthcare, education, security and smart cities. The arrangement introduces the open source M2M technology needed to drive enterprise innovation and meet the evolving demands of the fast growing M2M market.
