Request for trading halt: Advance Nanotek Limited (ASX:ANO)

ANO requests a trading halt to be applied to its securities under ASX Listing Rule 17.1 and set out below details of the request as per the rules of the ASX.

ANO requests an immediate trading halt be granted by ASX with respect to its securities.

Astivita Limited (ASX:AIR), a customer of ANO, brought to the attention of ANO a highly progressed opportunity regarding the development of oral care products (New Products), which could prevent the coronavirus cells multiplying. ANO have decided that it intends to file a patent application in respect of the New Products on Tuesday, 17 March 2020. Given the substantial involvement of AIR in bringing the New Products opportunity to ANO, both companies have agreed that arrangements need to be entered into between them regarding ownership of intellectual property in the New Products and/or commercial arrangements regarding commercialisation of the New Products (IP Ownership). The trading halt is needed to afford both companies the time to seek legal advice in respect of IP Ownership, as both boards have common directors.

ANO requests that the trading halt continue until the earlier of ANO releasing an announcement in relation to the IP Ownership or commencement of trading on Wednesday, 18 March 2020.

ANO expects that the trading halt will be ended by ANO making an announcement to the ASX in respect of the IP Ownership.

We confirm that we are not aware of any reason why the trading halt should not be granted.

Yours sincerely
