Dear Fellow Shareholder,

In October equity markets around the world suffered the worst monthly performance since the global financial crisis, with the MSCI World Index (USD) finishing down 7.3% and the S&P/ASX All Ordinaries Accumulation Index, S&P/ASX 200 Accumulation Index and S&P/ASX Small Ordinaries Accumulation Index closing down 6.5%, 6.1%, and 9.6% respectively. During the month, tightening US monetary policy, fears surrounding trade wars and weakness in emerging economies sparked a global sell off in equities. Every single sector in the Australian market closed the month in the red. The technology sector, which has been trading on unsustainably high valuations, was the worst performing sector for the month, falling 11.4%, followed by energy, down 10.3%, impacted by the fall in crude oil prices.

I believe we are in the final stages of the longest US bull market in history. Over the last decade, central banks have pumped an unprecedented level of liquidity into the economic system, lowering interest rates to record levels and driving asset valuations to extremes. The recent stock market rout has wiped out the 2018 calendar year gains in the US, while China's equity market has fallen by nearly 30% from its peak earlier this year and Australia has entered a technical correction.

What concerns me most is that all bear markets are extremely painful. Fortunately, I have worked through a number of bear markets before and as an investor I am excited about the opportunities that will present themselves.

During these periods patience is the key. Given our cautious outlook, we have steadily increased our listed investment companies' (LIC) cash weightings to withstand increasing volatility and ensure necessary liquidity in our portfolios, which unfortunately will not make us immune to the effects of an equity bear market.

In other news

As you know, we have been fighting against Labor's policy to scrap the current dividend imputation system and tax Australian shareholders twice. The 'savings' to be collected under Labor's proposal will come from low-income earners and self-funded retirees with modest SMSF balances. Many of our 80,000 shareholders fall into this category and we will not rest until Labor drops this policy. We encourage you all to submit your stories to the House of Representatives Inquiry into this issue by visiting www.stopthetirementtax.com.au. You can read our submission here, feel free to use it for inspiration as you write your own.

On 31 October 2018, WAM Capital shares were allotted to shareholders of Wealth Defender Equities Limited (ASX: WDE) following the successful takeover. Since the issuance of shares, we believe WAM Capital's share price has been impacted by Perennial Value Management's selling. Perennial was the investment manager of WDE and owned 8.3% of the company. Under Perennial's management, WDE's underperforming share price was significantly less liquid than WAM Capital's. Perennial converted all of its WDE shares to WAM Capital shares under the takeover and are now able to sell its previously illiquid securities for cash.

We have also lodged a proposal to manage Blue Sky Alternatives Access Fund (ASX: BAF) and reposition the LIC to provide investors with access to a diversified portfolio of alternative assets selected by market-leading investment managers. Our proposal would provide BAF shareholders with access to Wilson Asset Management's expertise in LICs as well as more favourable conditions than the other proposal announced to shareholders. We look forward to the Independent Directors and their independent expert reviewing the merits of both proposals and allowing shareholders to vote on our proposal.

WAM Leaders Board of Directors announced this week that it has entered into a Scheme Implementation Agreement to merge with Century Australia Investments Limited (ASX: CYA). We look forward to finalising the integration of Century Australia with WAM Leaders, which commenced with Wilson Asset Management's appointment as Century Australia's investment manager on 18 April 2017, following a shareholder vote. For further information regarding the key benefits of the merger, the Century Australia Board's recommendation, the indicative timeline and conditions, please see the announcement.

We look forward to meeting with you at our upcoming Shareholder Presentations. The presentations begin at 10.00am in each city and are followed by the Future Generation Shareholder Presentations at 12.15pm. Lunch will be served at 1.15pm providing you with the chance to speak with the team and farewell outgoing CIO Chris Stott, so come and make a day of it.

Happy investing,

Geoff Wilson AO

(ASX: WLE)

Portfolio update

The WAM Leaders investment portfolio decreased 5.2% in October. In what was a disappointing month for equities, the investment portfolio benefitted from defensive positions in selective holdings in the portfolio. During the month Newcrest Mining (ASX: NCM) and Evolution Mining (ASX: EVN) released strong quarterly results, with both companies benefitting from the market's volatility and the safe-haven status of gold, which climbed 1.9% in October. Fortescue Metals Group (ASX: FMG) also released its quarterly results, with an improvement in price realisation resulting from the inclusion of higher grade iron ore.

W | A | M Global

Focus: small to mid-cap international companies
(ASX: WGB)

Portfolio update

October saw global markets fall significantly. The MSCI World Index fell 7.3% in USD terms and small to mid-cap stocks were hit particularly hard, with the S&P Global Mid Small Cap Index down 9.4% in USD terms. Falls were seen in all major regions with the US S&P 500 Index falling 6.9% in USD terms, the UK FTSE 100 Index falling 5.1% in GBP terms, Japan's Topix falling 9.4% in JPY terms, Europe's Euro Stoxx 50 Index falling 5.9% in EUR terms, the Chinese CSI 300 Index falling 8.3% in CNY terms and Australia's S&P/All Ordinaries Accumulation Index falling 6.5%. While all sectors were down, industrials and consumer discretionary were hit the hardest, and real estate and utilities suffered the least. Various factors were pointed to for why the market sold off so aggressively including rising interest rates, trade wars, and slowing global growth.

The US economy continues its solid run with strong gross domestic product (GDP) figures, ongoing jobs growth and record low unemployment reported. We expect equity market volatility to continue as the US Federal Reserve normalises monetary policy. Having pumped unprecedented amounts of liquidity into the system following the global financial crisis, this liquidity is gradually being withdrawn. Higher interest rates will eventually translate to greater corporate debt costs and increased discount rates that will reduce company valuations.

The US and China have so far failed to reach a resolution to their trade war, and at this point tariffs are set to rise again in January 2019. Global growth expectations will be hindered by the continuation of this geopolitical strife.

Markets were offered some relief post the October sell off with US mid-term election results as expected, with the Democrats assuming control of the House and control of the Senate remaining with the Republicans. Historically equity markets have rallied in the fourth quarter post mid-term elections. We will see if history can repeat in the face of slowing lead indicators of growth and falling earnings momentum. In Europe, concerns around Italy's fiscal situation remain and Brexit negotiations continue without resolution. Economic growth forecasts in Europe have been progressively revised down this calendar year.

Our key area of focus is companies' earnings capacity going forward. Recent US quarterly reporting saw generally strong earnings per share (EPS) growth fuelled by tax cuts and buy backs. We are cautious on the outlook for company profit margins globally as we are seeing increasing evidence of inflation in cost bases due to rising wages, freight, energy and raw materials. We see analysts' forecasts in the US in various cases as being far too optimistic as we approach 2019, however expectations in Japan, and to some degree, in Europe, look more realistic.
