

Maximus launches investor communication platform

Maximus Resources Limited ('Maximus' or the 'Company', ASX:MXR) has formally launched the new Maximus Resources InvestorHub. The Company's InvestorHub is an investor community dedicated communications platform where investors can learn more about Maximus' activities and actively engage with the Company's leadership team.

To learn more visit Maximus' InvestorHub at: www.investorhub.maximusresources.com/welcome

Managing Director, Tim Wither, commented "The launch of our investor hub allows us to communicate directly with all our shareholders, stakeholders, and prospective investors, giving them the ability to ask questions and provide feedback on any of our ASX announcements. Importantly, it allows us to interact directly and transparently with our shareholders and the wider investor community. We very much appreciate shareholders' continued support and regular feedback, and we look forward to continuing to update investors in a more engaging environment through Maximus' InvestorHub."

We welcome you to join the Maximus' InvestorHub at: www.investorhub.maximusresources.com/auth/signup

Investors with complete InvestorHub accounts will be invited to Maximus' conference events and other corporate interaction opportunities throughout the year.

InvestorHub is an Australian-founded investor community platform that connects investors with companies and allows companies to build direct relationships with shareholders and investors. To find out more about InvestorHub visit www.investorhub.com.

This ASX announcement has been approved by the Board of Directors of Maximus.
