

Simble Solutions signs agreement with Origin Energy

27 February, 2023, Sustainability Solutions Company Simble Solutions Limited (ASX:SIS) ('Simble' or 'the Company') is pleased to announce that its wholly owned subsidiary entity Simble Energy Pty Ltd, has signed a 1 year term with a 2 year option agreement with Origin Energy (Origin) to provide the SimbleSense solution to their commercial and industrial customers.

Highlights

- The SimbleSense platform will be offered by Origin Zero, a business unit of Origin that provides energy solutions and services to their large business customers, including helping them to decarbonise their energy supply.
- Under the agreement, Origin will manage the installation of the energy monitoring devices at customers' sites.
- The data from these devices will be presented to customers via Simble's SimbleSense platform.
- Customers will be able to use the platform to:
  - Monitor their behind-the-meter energy usage at a device or circuit level
  - Access a breakdown of their energy consumption in real time
  - Identify trends and potential savings opportunities
  - Assist in the measurement and verification of energy efficiency and carbon reduction projects
- Sales Training will commence in March 2023, and enable Origin's sales personnel to offer the capability as part of their broader range of customer solutions.

Under the agreement, Origin will make a version of the SimbleSense platform available to its significant number of large business customers to assist them with better understanding and reducing their energy usage.

Simble Solutions Limited (ASX:SIS) | ASX Announcement

SimbleSense will enable Origin's customers to use real time data to monitor energy usage, identify trends and potential savings opportunities, and to assist in measurement and verification of energy efficiency projects.

This agreement provides further validation of Simble's leading energy management technology, with one of Australia's largest energy retailers by market share choosing SimbleSense as a critical part of its strategy to drive businesses towards net-zero.

Fadi Geha, Chief Revenue Officer commented:

"Our arrangement with Origin Zero further builds on the success of our sales channel strategy. This approach opens access to a substantial customer base and we are confident that this strategic agreement will drive strong sales and engagement for both companies."
