

ASX Announcement/Press Release: 31st May 2023
Xref Limited (ASX: XF1)

Xref Launches Investor Hub

Global HR tech platform Xref (ASX:XF1) is pleased to advise of the recent launch of a new Investor Hub. The Xref Investor Hub is a dedicated platform for investors to learn more about Xref and our latest activities, as we continue to execute our growth strategy.

In addition to ASX announcements, Xref will be uploading supplementary content to the Xref Investor Hub, including corporate presentations, videos, interviews, media coverage and other investor-related resources.

We encourage investors to sign-up to the Hub to stay updated with the latest news, access additional investor-related resources and interact with Xref by posting questions and feedback.

Investors subscribed to the Xref Investor Hub may also receive invitations to exclusive investor events and other opportunities, from time to time.

Xref CEO and Founder, Lee-Martin Seymour, said "We are embarking on an exciting phase of our journey. Our addressable market has grown significantly, our platform can now be used across the hire to retire journey and we are growing our SaaS revenue. We are excited to adopt a platform that will help us educate the market on our value and opportunity, as well as signal milestones as we continue to execute our growth strategy."

This announcement has been approved by the Board of Directors of Xref Limited. To learn more, please visit.

Website: xref.com

Investor Centre and Presentation: xf1.com

Investor Hub: investorhub.xf1.com

Investor Snapshot: pdf download

Twitter: @xf1

Email: investors@xf1.com

About Xref

Headed up by Founder and CEO Lee-Martin Seymour, Xref is a profitable growth business supported by major institutional investors.

Xref supports over 15,000 active users from 2600 entities across over 1300 organisations servicing large global enterprises and sectors within the trust economy such as Healthcare, Aged Care, Not For Profit, Government and Education. Xref has over 1.3 million users across 195 countries, making it one of Australia's most global technology companies.

Xref allows employers to verify a candidate's references and ID, together with other key checking services, bringing all these onto one platform, via a partner marketplace. Xref's growth trajectory continues as employers want to safeguard their company from breaches in fraud, privacy and discrimination. The marketing-led, data-driven organisation ranks #1 in reference checking globally.

With the world of work changing, business-critical platforms such as Xref are in high demand. Reference surveys, identity verification, and other pre-employment checks are crucial to give organisations confidence in their hiring and Xref is meeting that demand with an aggressive product development roadmap.

The evolution of Xref's business reflects the leadership team's unwavering focus towards an enhanced platform that increases Xref's global addressable market. Xref will continue to meet the changing needs of recruitment and HR teams globally.