Results for Announcement to the Market

The reporting period is the half year ended 31 December 2023 with the prior corresponding period being the half year ended 31 December 2022.

The Half year financial report has been reviewed by the Company's auditors.

- > For the six-month period, Mirrabooka's portfolio return including the benefit of franking was 10.7%. The combined Small Ordinaries and Mid Cap 50 sector benchmark including franking, was 5.1% over the same period.
- > Profit for the half-year was $4.6 million. This is 18.3% down on the $5.7 million reported for the previous corresponding period. The reduction was due to prior corresponding period gains on the trading portfolio and option activity not being repeated this half year, which saw a profit reduction of over $2 million. Dividends and distributions received increased by 9.3%.
- > Revenue from operating activities was $6.6 million, 9.7% up on the previous corresponding period. This excludes capital gains on investments.
- > The interim dividend of 4.0 cents per share fully franked (at 30%), an increase of 0.5 cents per share on last year's interim dividend, will be paid on 19 February 2024 to ordinary shareholders on the register on 25 January 2024. There is no conduit foreign income component of the dividend.
- > All of the interim dividend is sourced from capital gains, on which the Company has paid or will pay tax. The amount of the pre-tax attributable gain, known as an "LIC capital gain", attached to this dividend is 5.71 cents (4.0 cents grossed up for tax). This enables some shareholders to claim a tax deduction in their tax return. Further details will be on the dividend statements.
- > A Dividend Reinvestment Plan (DRP) and a Dividend Substitution Share Plan (DSSP) are available, the price for which will be set at a nil discount to the Volume Weighted Average Price of the Company's shares traded on the ASX and Cboe automated trading systems over the five trading days from when the shares trade ex-dividend. The last date for the receipt of an election notice for participation in the DRP and DSSP is 5 pm (AEST) on 29 January 2024.
- > A final dividend for the 2023 financial year of 6.5 cents per share plus a special dividend of 4.5 cents, both fully franked, were paid to shareholders on 17 August 2023.
- > Net asset backing per share before any provision for deferred tax on the unrealised gains on the long term investment portfolio as at 31 December 2023 was $3.06 (before allowing for the interim dividend), up from $2.68 (also before allowing for the interim dividend) at the end of the previous corresponding period.
- > The Company will be providing an update on these results via a webcast for shareholders on Monday, 5 February 2024 at 3.30 pm (AEST). Details are on the website at mirra.com.au.

Mirrabooka Delivers Strong Portfolio Performance, Increases Interim Dividend.

Half Year Report to 31 December 2023

Mirrabooka is an investor in small and mid-cap companies seeking to provide attractive income and capital growth over the medium to long term to shareholders at a low cost.

For the six-month period, Mirrabooka's portfolio return including the benefit of franking was 10.7%. The combined Small Ordinaries and Mid Cap 50 sector benchmark including franking, was 5.1% over the same period.

The 12-month portfolio return including franking was 22.2%. The combined Small Ordinaries and Mid Cap 50 benchmark return over the corresponding period including franking was 8.6%. The strong relative outperformance has come from longer term holdings such as James Hardie Industries, Reece, ARB Corporation, Audinate Group, Breville Group and CAR Group, and relative new holdings Gentrack and IPD Group. In addition, the underweight portfolio position in many mid-sized resource companies which underperformed the market has also benefited relative performance over the 12-month period.

Portfolio return (including the full benefit of franking) to 31 December 2023

Per annum returns other than for six months. Mirrabooka's performance numbers are after costs. Past performance is not indicative of future performance.

Portfolio activity commonly involved trimming of holdings for risk management purposes due to stretched share prices in larger portfolio positions. Much of this occurred late in the half, as the market rallied aggressively through November and December. Buying activity was driven by seeking better value in new portfolio additions as well as opportunistically topping up existing holdings, particularly in the interest-rate driven market weakness seen in October.

The interim dividend has been increased to 4.0 cents per share fully franked up from the interim dividend last year of 3.5 cents per share fully franked.

Half Year Profit was $4.6 million, down from $5.7 million in the prior corresponding period. While dividend income from investments increased, the large contribution from the trading portfolio and option activity in the prior corresponding period was not repeated this half year.

Market Commentary and Portfolio Performance

Mirrabooka delivered a return for the six months to 31 December 2023 including the benefit of franking of 10.7%. This was well ahead of the return for the combined Small Ordinaries and Mid Cap 50 benchmark, which was 5.1% including franking over the same period. The 12-month portfolio return including franking was 22.2%. The combined Small Ordinaries and Mid Cap 50 benchmark return over the corresponding period including franking was 8.6%.

The economic and market backdrop has remained challenging to interpret. Notwithstanding this, we have been pleased by the contribution to portfolio returns that we have received from both the consistent underlying operating performance of core key long term holdings, as well as the value captured from our investment activity throughout 2022 and 2023.

In terms of contribution from our long-term holdings, our portfolio returns have recently been assisted by continued strong performance in James Hardie Industries, ARB Corporation, Breville Group and CAR Group. The strong share price rebound in Temple & Webster, a stock that we first acquired in early 2020 prior to the COVID-19 induced share price volatility that followed, has also been particularly beneficial.

More recent purchases have also provided strong contributions. Gentrack (software provider to utility and airport customers) and IPD Group (an electrical components distributor) have both delivered exceptional share price performance in the approximately two years since they were acquired. As they have both continued to deliver particularly strong underlying results, we have enjoyed the benefit of compounding share price appreciation, which has seen relatively small initial positions move up into our top 20 portfolio holdings.

Other notable positive performance in the financial year to date has come from previously well-identified early stage growth companies like Audinate (audio and visual networking technology provider) and Chrysos (mineral assay technology provider).

Importantly in the context of Mirrabooka's long-term horizon the portfolio has performed ahead of its benchmark over the last three, five and 10 years despite the volatility in recent returns.

Portfolio Adjustments

We have continued to seek out the best relative long term value in companies that meet our quality threshold during the half year.

As a result, a new position in IGO (part-owner of the world's lowest-cost large-scale lithium mine, Greenbushes) was added and we continued to add to our recent addition, Lynas Rare Earths (the only scale producer of rare earths material outside of China). While subsequent share price falls suggest that we bought these too early, we remain comfortable with our investment thesis and the long-term outlook for each.

We have also seen value emerge in the Real Estate Investment Trust sector, as the sharp recent rise in interest rates saw material share price falls across the sector. We established a new position in Region Group which we view as a secure income producer, with its centres anchored by large non-discretionary supermarket tenants.

Telix Pharmaceuticals (radiopharmaceutical business that is a market leader for the detection of prostate cancer) and Lindsay Australia (transport company that has recently enjoyed market share gains servicing food produce markets across eastern Australia) were the other material portfolio additions made in the six-month period.

To fund these purchases, we exited our investment in Santos, a holding that we retained after our long-term shareholding in Oil Search was taken over by Santos. We also closed out our successful trading position in Medibank, which was bought after the steep share price decline following its cyber breach in late 2022.

We also trimmed holdings where valuations had risen with portfolio position sizes looking too high for the value now on offer. This occurred most materially in our positions in REA Group, Eagers Automotive, Netwealth, Auckland Airport and Reece.

Outlook

With the sharp rise in global inflation abating, markets have in recent months taken encouragement from the view that interest rates have peaked. As a result, we saw a “soft landing” narrative driving markets, particularly through November and December.

Despite the present resilient state of economic activity, risks remain, particularly if inflation does not meet central bank targets or economic activity begins to fall as a lagged result of previous interest rate increases. Either scenario would provide downside risk to the way markets are currently being priced.

Notwithstanding this caution, we continue to invest for the long term. We take encouragement from the market share gains that a number of our more meaningful holdings are consistently achieving. We also continue to be encouraged by the opportunities that our process and experience allow us to discover – typically because either the market is taking a short-term view that doesn’t appropriately reflect medium to long term value or the company is at an early stage and is yet to be broadly discovered.

Following the strong absolute and relative return we have seen from our portfolio over the 2023 calendar year, we are again somewhat cautious on some of the stock valuations that we are observing within the portfolio. If market buoyancy continues, we expect to be testing holdings for valuation extremes and searching for other opportunities that present stronger long-term value. In doing so, we will remain particularly focused on ensuring that the quality of the companies we own isn’t compromised, which ensures our portfolio remains well placed to navigate a wide range of possible economic outcomes.

Based on our review, which is not an audit, we have not become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the accompanying half-year financial report of Mirrabooka Investments Limited does not comply with the Corporations Act 2001 including:

1. giving a true and fair view of the Company's financial position as at 31 December 2023 and of its performance for the half-year ended on that date
2. complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

We are independent of the Company in accordance with the auditor independence requirements of the Corporations Act 2001 and the ethical requirements of the Accounting Professional & Ethical Standards Board's APES 110 Code of Ethics for Professional Accountants (including Independence Standards) (the Code) that are relevant to the audit of the annual financial report in Australia. Auditor's responsibilities for the review of the half-year financial report

Our responsibility is to express a conclusion on the half-year financial report based on our review. ASRE 2410 requires us to conclude whether we have become aware of any matter that makes us believe that the half-year financial report is not in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001 including giving a true and fair view of the Company's financial position as at 31 December 2023 and of its performance for the half-year ended on that date, and complying with Accounting Standard AASB 134 Interim Financial Reporting and the Corporations Regulations 2001.

A review of a half-year financial report consists of making enquiries, primarily of persons responsible for financial and accounting matters, and applying analytical and other review procedures. A review is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards and consequently does not enable us to obtain assurance that we would become aware of all significant matters that might be identified in an audit. Accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion.
