Outlook

- Fundamentals of the business and industry remain strong - global consumption of plant protein and almonds continues to grow
 - ✓ US sales up 16% last season, absorbing increased production
 - ✓ Further research supporting health benefits of consuming plant based proteins including almonds
- Select Harvests has invested in high quality orchards, processing assets and brands - the business has the growth platform in place to meet future market demands and be globally competitive, including benefits from:
 - ✓ Future earnings potential of our greenfield/immature orchards with over a third of orchards yet to mature
 - ✓ Investment in orchard infrastructure and fertilizer programs to improve yields
 - ✓ Upgrades to processing assets including soon to commissioned biomass plant
- Select Harvests 2018 “theoretical” crop would be approx. 15,800MT - based on acres planted, age profile & industry average yields and approx. 21,633 in 2024, a 53% increase from FY2017

SELECT HARVESTS

Outlook

- Select Harvests 2018 crop is in the nut forming stage, pollination was fast and weather disrupted. Two frost events have occurred, predominantly affecting some areas within Select Harvests' NSW orchards. The remainder of the growing season has been normal allowing irrigation, fertigation and orchard hygiene activities to be performed to plan. The subjective crop estimate will be undertaken in late November/early December once nut set is complete.
- 78% of the Select Harvests 2017 crop is now committed, with the total estimated crop price remaining at $7.43 per kg
- USD almond pricing outlook is firm - the US estimated crop of 2.25 billion pounds is within expectations, but quality is below expectations due to insect damage
- Domestic and Asian market demand remains strong across all channels
- Ongoing focus to reduce operating expenditure, working capital and capital expenditure
- H2E project remains on track; Parboil project is commissioned, but not yet running to business case.

Market Update

Indicative proposal to acquire Select Harvests

On 19 September 2017 Select Harvests received a non-binding, indicative and highly conditional proposal from Mubadala Investment Company PJSC (Mubadala) to acquire 100% of Select Harvests for $5.85 cash per Select Harvests share (Indicative Proposal). The Indicative Proposal valued Select Harvests at approximately $430.6 million on an enterprise value basis.

Key terms of the Indicative Proposal and its underlying financial assumptions and conditions are outlined below:

1. Key Terms
 - a) Indicative Proposal to be executed via Select Harvests scheme of arrangement.
 - b) Select Harvests shareholders to receive 100% cash consideration of $5.85 per Select Harvests share.
2. Underlying Key Financial Assumptions
 - a) 73,606,835 fully paid ordinary shares and no dilution impact through the exercise or vesting of any outstanding options or performance rights.
 - b) No material changes in Select Harvest's cash and debt balances compared with its last publicly reported position.
 - c) Working capital is maintained at appropriate levels.
3. Key Conditions
 - a) Completion of confirmatory due diligence which must be exclusively provided to Mubadala.
 - b) No material adverse change in Select Harvest's business, including no return of capital or dividends.
 - c) Negotiation and execution of a mutually acceptable implementation agreement, containing conditions (including break fees, no stop/no talk and notification/matching rights in the event of a competing proposal and other appropriate protections for Mubadala).
 - d) Unanimous recommendation from Select Harvests in favour of the Indicative Proposal.
 - e) Select Harvests directors and management undertaking to vote in favour of the Indicative Proposal with respect to 100% of their shares.

On 25 September 2017 Select Harvests informed Mubadala that it was not prepared to advance discussions in relation to the Indicative Proposal and that Select Harvests was therefore not in a position to provide due diligence or engage with Mubadala.

In arriving at its conclusion in respect of the Indicative Proposal, Select Harvests undertook a detailed assessment of the Indicative Proposal including obtaining written advice from its legal and financial advisers. A number of quantitative and qualitative factors were considered by Select Harvests and its advisers in their assessment of the Indicative Proposal which led Select Harvests' Board to conclude that the proposal significantly undervalued the company. These factors included:

- a) the equity value per Select Harvests share in various stated scenarios compared to the headline value of the Indicative Proposal ($5.85);
- b) the fundamental control value per Select Harvests share compared to the headline value of the Indicative Proposal;
- c) potential risks associated with regulatory approvals required for the Indicative Proposal, including FIRB, and uncertainty about any overseas regulatory approvals that might be required;
- d) the potentially disruptive due diligence process contemplated by the Indicative Proposal;
- e) the scheme structure of the Indicative Proposal which would necessarily cause Select Harvests to incur significant costs which it would have to bear irrespective of the ultimate outcome of the scheme process;
- f) the requirement to provide exclusivity which the Board was not prepared to provide at the headline value of the Indicative Proposal; and
- g) the requirements to maintain Select Harvests in stasis with no distributions to shareholders or changes in capital structure over an extended period, potentially hindering the capacity of the directors to act in the best interests of shareholders.

These and other factors, taken together from a Select Harvests shareholder perspective, persuaded the Board not to engage in the Indicative Proposal at its headline value.

It is possible that Mubadala may revise its Indicative Proposal or withdraw its Indicative Proposal, but to date no revised proposal reflecting a higher headline value has been received.

SELECT HARVESTS

Risks

This section discusses some of the risks associated with an investment in shares in Select Harvests. These risks may affect the future operating and financial performance of Select Harvests and the value of Select Harvests' shares.

The risks set out below are not listed in order of importance and do not necessarily constitute an exhaustive list of all risks involved with an investment in Select Harvests.

Before investing in Select Harvests, you should consider whether this investment is suitable for you. Potential investors should consider publicly available information on Select Harvests (such as that available on the websites of Select Harvests and ASX), carefully consider their personal circumstances and consult their professional advisers before making an investment decision. Additional risks and uncertainties that Select Harvests is unaware of, or that it currently considers to be immaterial, may also become important factors that adversely affect Select Harvests' operating and financial performance.

Nothing in this presentation is financial product advice and this document has been prepared without taking into account your investment objectives or personal circumstances.

You should note that the occurrence or consequences of many of the risks described in this section are partially or completely outside the control of Select Harvests, its directors, senior management and advisers. Further, you should note that this section focuses on the potential risks and does not purport to list every risk that Select Harvests may have now or in the future. It is also important to note that there can be no guarantee that Select Harvests will achieve its stated objectives or that any forward looking statements contained in this presentation will be realised or otherwise eventuate. All potential investors should satisfy themselves that they have a sufficient understanding of these matters, including the risks described in this section, and have regard to their own investment objectives, financial circumstances and taxation position.

Cooling off rights do not apply to the acquisition of New Shares.

Specific risks

Sales margins, almond price and costs

- Sales are impacted by the market price of products sold which are subject to market forces of supply and demand. Specifically, the sales of almonds owned by Select Harvests are subject to global pricing patterns.
- Margins are also impacted by the cost of inputs such as growing costs including fertilizers and water, and costs of raw material nut commodities used within the Food Products Division. Management Services fee income is based on a combination of fixed fee based contracts, and variable incentive fee based contracts linked to almond price realisation and production cost efficiencies.
- Changes to the tenure and terms of material management contracts, and realisation of incentives will impact sales margins in the business.

Weather patterns and climatic conditions

- Select Harvests is exposed to Australian weather patterns, disease and insect infestations and natural disasters, for example drought, extreme heat, floods, hail, frost, insufficient chill hours and associated changes in agricultural activity.
- Variability in weather conditions and natural disasters may impact key drivers of Select Harvests' earnings including: crop size and quality, supply and demand characteristics in agricultural markets, market prices for almonds and economic activity.

Water rights/growing conditions

- The main cost inputs to growing almonds are water, fertigation, equipment and direct labour. Select Harvests has ownership and access to permanent water rights which on a 90% allocation are sufficient to support the growing of existing almond crops it owns under best horticultural practice. Should water allocations not be at 100%, which due to impact of droughts has been the experience historically, a proportionate investment in temporary water will be required, which increases the cost of production.
- Fertigation costs are subject to market conditions which may result in volatility in input costs. There is a relationship between the proportionate investment in growing costs and resultant crop yield.

Greenfield developments

- Successful implementation of future greenfield developments may be negatively impacted by a range of factors including weather and climatic conditions, unsuitable land and soil characteristics, available water and rootstock, planning and other regulatory approvals and available financing.

Key suppliers

- In addition to water, crop size and quality is heavily reliant on a number of key suppliers including access to a sustainable annual supply of bees for tree pollination.

Impact of foreign exchange movements

- Export sales are realised in US dollars and translated to Australian dollars. Through this Select Harvests is exposed to movements in the value of the US dollar. The impact of exchange rate movements will vary from time to time and is dependent on any hedging entered into, the levels at which hedging contracts are arranged and the duration of hedging contracts. The impact of movements in exchange rates may be negative depending on their direction, timing and magnitude.

Material contracts

- A significant proportion of Select Harvests' planted acreage is the subject of long term leases with third parties. The rentals under these leases are the subject of market based rent reviews. There is a risk that Select Harvests' leasing costs will increase in the future.
- Select Harvests is subject to periodic review of its product range with Woolworths and Coles.

Counterparty risks

- As part of its ongoing commercial activities, Select Harvests enters into contracts with various third parties. The ability of third parties to meet their commitments under such arrangements may impact on Select Harvests' business and financial position.

Product liability

- The nature of products supplied by Select Harvests is that of a consumable food product. Such products may be liable to infestation, mould and other biological impacts which occur in natural products. Such products may also be subject to processing and production defaults against specification.

Bank debt covenants

- If Select Harvests' operational and financial performance declined, it could lead to a breach of its banking covenants. If Select Harvests breaches its covenants, its financiers could enforce their rights under the debt facilities and this may result in them requiring immediate repayment and therefore, this may have a materially adverse effect on Select Harvests' financial performance and position.

Capital Projects

- As previously announced, Select Harvests has a number of major projects intended to deliver cost savings and/or processing efficiencies. As with all major capital projects, there are risks that the projects will not be completed by their scheduled completion dates, and that the costs of completing the projects exceed original budgeted costs, with the result that the returns from the projects may be less than expected or planned. Either or both of these risks may have a material adverse effect on the financial performance of the company.

Competition

- Select Harvests' financial performance or operating margins and the value of Select Harvests could be materially adversely affected if existing competitors increase market share or new competitors enter the market.
- Such competition may have the effect of decreasing Select Harvests' sales, pricing and profit margins.

Reliance on key personnel

- Select Harvests is committed to providing an attractive employment environment, conditions and prospects to assist in retaining its key senior management personnel. However, there can be no assurance that Select Harvests will be able to retain these key personnel. The loss of key personnel or the inability to recruit and retain high calibre staff could have a material adverse effect on Select Harvests. The additions of new employees and the departures of existing employees, particularly in key positions, can be disruptive and could also have a material adverse effect on Select Harvests.

Litigation risk

- Litigation risks to Select Harvests include, but are not limited to, product liability, intellectual property disputes, customer claims, personal injury claims and employee claims. If any claim were to be pursued and be successful it may adversely impact the sales, profits or financial position of Select Harvests.

Occupational health and safety

- If Select Harvests fails to comply with necessary OH&S legislative requirements, it could result in fines, penalties and compensation for damages as well as reputational damage to Select Harvests.

Environmental regulations

- Select Harvests is required to comply with environmental regulations. If any breach of these regulations occurs, Select Harvests may be subject to remediation costs and other liabilities.

General risks

Share price and volume fluctuations

- Securities may experience extreme price and trading volume fluctuations. Following the Capital Raising, there may not be an active trading market in Select Harvests' shares. If a market is not sustained, it may be difficult for investors to sell their shares at a price that is attractive to them or at all. The price of the New Shares may not be representative of the price that will prevail after the Capital Raising.
- The equity market has experienced price and volume volatility that has affected the share price of many companies. Security prices for many companies have experienced wide fluctuations that have often been unrelated to the operating performance of those companies. Fluctuations such as these may adversely affect the market price of Select Harvests' shares.

Economic risks

- Select Harvests is exposed to economic factors in the ordinary course of business. Factors such as changes in fiscal, monetary and regulatory policies can adversely impact Select Harvests' earnings. Given that interest rates in Australia are at historically low levels, there is a likelihood of some increase in the medium to longer term. A high proportion of Select Harvests sales are based on exports in US Dollars, and Select Harvests also imports raw materials which are paid in US Dollars. The company's earnings are exposed to fluctuations in exchange rates.
- Select Harvests has a hedging policy whereby a proportion of foreign currency risks are covered through the use of derivatives. Where a liability or asset arises in a currency other than Australian dollars, the exposure is covered by the proportionate forward sale or purchase of the currency. A portion of all variable interest rates commitments are hedged by the use of fixed-for-floating interest rate swaps, and/or interest rate caps. The principal amount and the duration of these swaps/caps is determined by the total level of Select Harvests' borrowings and the interest rate outlook prevailing in the financial markets.

Government policies and legislation

- Select Harvests may be affected by changes to government policies and legislation, including those relating to the agricultural industry, property, the environment, taxation, the regulation of trade practices and competition.

Taxation implications

- Future changes in Australian taxation law, including changes in interpretation or application of the law by the courts or taxation authorities in Australia, may affect taxation treatment of an investment in Select Harvests shares, or the holding and disposal of those shares. Further, changes in tax law, or changes in the way tax law is expected to be interpreted, in the various jurisdictions in which Select Harvests operates, may impact the future tax liabilities of Select Harvest.

Changes in accounting policy

- Select Harvests is subject to the usual business risk that there may be changes in accounting policies which impact on Select Harvests.

Asset impairment

- The Select Harvests' Board regularly monitors impairment risk. Consistent with accounting standards, Select Harvests is periodically required to assess the carrying value of its assets, including its brands. Where the value of an asset is assessed to be less than its carrying value, Select Harvests is obliged to recognise an impairment charge in its profit and loss account. Impairment charges can be significant and operate to reduce the level of a company's profits and, potentially, its capacity to pay dividends. Impairment charges are a non-cash item.
