CLARIFICATION REGARDING ANNOUNCEMENT OF GRANT OF MOUNT GORDON TENEMENTS

Having consulted with its geological advisors, Cohiba Minerals Limited [ASX:CHK] (the Company) wishes to provide the following clarifications in respect of its 9 January 2018 ASX announcement titled “Key Mt Gordon Mine Area Tenements Granted” (Announcement).

- The Company wishes to clarify that the Mt Gordon mine identified in Figure 1 of the Announcement is the historic Mount Gordon mine which is shown on the Queensland Department of Natural Resources and Mines maps database. In making this clarification, the Company notes that it is aware that an active mine approximately 35kms to the south of the Company’s newly granted tenements which was, until 2015, formerly known as the Mount Gordon mine.
- Figure 2.1.1 and 2.1.2 of the Announcement, and the reference to Mount Gordon Esperanza formation, relate to geology associated with the area referred to above approximately 35kms to the south of the Company’s newly granted tenements and were included in the Announcement as an example of the potential for clustered deposits in similar structural and lithological terrains in the regional vicinity.
- The reference to the historic Cobalt intersection in paragraph 2 of page 2 of the Announcement relates to the historic Mount Oxide mine (rather than the Mount Gordon mine). The historic Mount Oxide mine was in close proximity to the historic Mount Gordon mine identified in Figure 1 of the Announcement.

This announcement is made independent of, and is not related to, the matters related to the Company’s trading halt request on 18 January 2018 and subsequent voluntary suspension on 22 January 2018. Accordingly, the voluntary suspension will continue to apply pending a further announcement by the Company regarding a proposed joint venture farm-in agreement and capital raising.
