OpenLearning and UNSW College Agree to Discontinue TPO

Sydney, Australia, 8 February 2024: OpenLearning Limited (ASX: OLL), the AI powered SaaS platform for lifelong learning and UNSW College have agreed to discontinue their agreement for the joint delivery of the Transition Program Online ('TPO') due to soft demand and OLL's core strategy to focus on technology, rather than course delivery.

UNSW College continues its use of OpenLearning's platform for the delivery of other online courses.

OpenLearning and UNSW College are actively exploring a number of new opportunities to expand their partnership and collaborate in Australia and in overseas markets.

OpenLearning expects that discontinuing the agreement will positively impact its financial performance in FY24. This change will eliminate the fixed costs associated with delivering the TPO, leading to improved bottom line results.

OpenLearning Group CEO & Managing Director Adam Brimo said: "The TPO is an innovative program that delivers excellent outcomes for students and saw initial success when international students were studying at home. As borders re-opened, demand for the program has decreased to the extent that it is no longer financially viable for OpenLearning to continue delivery of the program. We are proud of the work that our team has done over the years to deliver the TPO, and we are grateful for the support from UNSW College. We look forward to continuing to work with UNSW College on other courses and exploring new opportunities."

Ends.
