Importance of Cambodia in Global Logistics

Cambodia's strategic geographic location, maritime connectivity, infrastructure development, and potential for trade diversification make it a crucial link in Global Supply Chains. As the country continues to develop and modernize its supply chain infrastructure, it offers businesses new opportunities to optimize their operations and expand their presence in the dynamic and interconnected markets of Southeast Asia such as the growing powerhouses of Thailand and Vietnam and connectivity with China and the rest of the world.

As supply chains increasingly demand digital visibility and data, Cambodia has been a gap in both Yojee's and global supply chain from a capability and visibility perspective. By working towards connectivity in Cambodia to compliment the 1000+ transporters across Asia Pacific already connected to Yojee's Platform the company is creating a strategic moat around its operations.

Go to Market Plan in Cambodia

The company will be operating its standard commercial model in the region, focusing on adoption and usage based revenue to scale rapidly. Additionally, the partnership has been liaising with the Cambodian Logistics Association to support a best practice endorsement to connect the industry to its stakeholders and country to global supply chains.

Ed Clarke, Managing Director of Yojee said, “Off the back of success with our partner program elsewhere in the world, we are excited by this opportunity to grow our business in Cambodia and to support economic growth, with a leading group in Cambodia, AZ Group founded and Chaired by Oknha Lim Bunsour and managed by national digitization leader Mr Sokun Sum.

Yojee’s Platform brings efficiencies to the logistics sector in Cambodia by not only digitising land-based logistics but also as a second stage of strategic planning, bringing to life our combined vision to connect numerous stakeholders in the logistics ecosystem, including sustainability benefits such as reducing the prolific number empty trucks driving across the country returning from deliveries and also societal benefits such as financial and cash flow opportunities.

A key feature of our Platform is its ability to be aware in real-time of capacity and availability and then provide an instant auditable digital trail of title of goods transfer, at each stage across a goods journey, which triggers invoicing creating the potential to facilitate access to working capital for our clients across the logistics chain.”
