Question	Response	Where to find more information
What are the key risks of further investment in the Company?	Potential investors should be aware that subscribing for New Shares in the Company involves a number of risks. Some of the more significant risks which affect an investment in the Company are summarised below. Please refer to section 3 for further details of both the risks set out below and other risks that are relevant to a decision to apply for New Shares. Expansion risk The Company's ability to successfully develop its business and effectively implement its business plan within the timeframe that it is aiming to achieve, will depend in part on its ability to raise the funds for its expansion. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to secure any additional funding or be able to secure funding on terms favourable to the Company. Existing funds (including the funds raised under the Offers) will not be sufficient for expenditure required for certain aspects of the Company's business plan, including the development of manufacturing facilities in Nanjing, China and investment in additional manufacturing facilities. Any additional equity financing may dilute shareholdings, and debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to secure any additional funding or will be able to secure funding on terms favourable to the Company. Construction risk As announced on 6 September 2023, the Company has entered into a construction agreement to construct manufacturing facilities on the recently acquired industrial land in the Lishui Economic Development Zone in Nanjing, China. The manufacturing facilities will be funded progressively via cash and debt, including funds raised from the Offer (refer to Section 1.3 for further details), with completion scheduled for September 2024. There is an inherent risk that the Company might not be able to achieve this in the expected timeframe or in a cost effective manner. The construction of any new manufacturing facilities in Nanjing, China or elsewhere is dependent on a number of contingencies, some of which are beyond the Company's control. These contingencies include but are not limited to: obtaining all necessary licences and permits; accessing additional labour; accessing and securing plant and equipment; and securing the delivery of production	Section 3

	machinery from third party manufacturers of the scale required in a cost and time effective manner. There is a risk that significant unanticipated costs or delays could arise due to errors or omissions, unforeseen technical issues (such as major equipment failures), increases in plant and equipment costs, inadequate contractual arrangements, labour difficulties or unusually adverse weather conditions. Should significant unanticipated costs or delays arise, this could have a material adverse impact on the Company's business, financial performance and operations. The Company's expansion of manufacturing facilities may also place increased demands on the Company's management, operating systems, internal controls and physical resources. If not managed effectively, these increased demands may adversely affect the Company's financial position and ability to meet customer demands. In addition, the Company's personnel, systems, procedures and controls may be inadequate to support future operations. In order to manage this expansion effectively, the Company may be required to increase expenditures to increase its physical resources, expand, train or manage its employee base and improve management, financial and information systems and controls. The Company's operations, financial condition and growth objectives are likely to be materially adversely affected if it is not able to manage effectively the budgeting, contraction, forecasting or other process control issues presented by constructing a new manufacturing facility and scaling up its operations. New technology Given the Company operates in an industry involving electric vehicle technology, any technological obsolescence could have an impact on our financial results. The Company seeks to mitigate this risk through continued investment in research and development, patent appropriate and necessary research and development results, recruitment of competent technicians and constantly monitoring the market. If the Company's technology is superseded, it could have an adverse impact on the Company's financial results. Protection and ownership of intellectual property The Company's financial performance may depend on its ability to safeguard and commercial exploit its intellectual property. The Company relies on patents to protect its proprietary intellectual property. A substantial part of the Company's commercial success will depend on its ability to maintain, establish and protect its intellectual property without infringing on the proprietary rights of third parties. No assurance can be given that any pending patent

	applications or any future patent applications will result in granted patents, that any patents will be granted on a timely basis, that the scope of any copyright or patent protection will exclude competitors or provide competitive advantages to the Company, that any of the Company's patents will be held valid if challenged, or that third parties will not claim rights in or ownership of the copyright, patents and other proprietary rights held by the Company. Any claims made against the Company's patents or other intellectual property rights, even without merit, could be time consuming and expensive to defend and could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's resources. A third party asserting infringement claims against the Company could require the Company to cease the infringing activity and/or require the Company to enter into licensing and royalty arrangements. The third party could also take legal action which could be costly. The Company may also be required to develop alternative non-infringing solutions that may require significant time and substantial unanticipated resources. There can be no assurance that such claims will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results. Research and development risk The Company is engaged in designing, developing and manufacturing electric vehicles. There is no guarantee that the Company will be successful in its future research and product development. The Company may not be able to develop new technologies sufficiently to enable it to develop commercial and marketable products. The ability of the Company to develop new technology relies partly on the recruitment of appropriately qualified staff and engagement of third parties. The Company may be unable to find a sufficient number of appropriately highly trained individuals to satisfy its growth rate which could affect its ability to develop new technologies as planned. In addition, new products may face potential regulatory barriers which, by their nature, will vary, for example, by application, geography, or volume of business and are difficult to anticipate at present. Key business relationships In February 2020, the Company entered into a joint investment agreement with Super Soco to establish a jointly owned Chinese registered manufacturing company, Nanjing Vmoto Soco Intelligent Technology Co, Ltd (Vmoto Soco Manufacturing). Pursuant to the joint venture agreement, the Company and Super Soco each own 50% of the issued capital of Vmoto Soco Manufacturing. Any changes in the business cooperation

	and relationship with Super Soco could adversely impact upon the Company, its business, development, financial condition, operating results or prospects. In addition, the Company also relies significantly on maintaining good relationships with other entities (including with its customers, suppliers, distributors, sub-distributors and contract manufacturers) and also on maintaining good relationships with the Chinese regulatory and government (including regional government) departments. There can be no assurance that the Company's existing relationships will continue or that new ones will be successfully formed and the Company could be adversely affected by changes to such relationships or difficulties in forming new ones. Any circumstance which causes the early termination or non-renewal of one of these key business relationships could adversely impact upon the Company, its business, development, financial condition, operating results or prospects. Dependence on third party suppliers The Company relies on a number of third party suppliers for the manufacture of its products. If a supplier fails to provide services or products on time or to the required standard, and particularly where an alternative source of service or supply is not readily available, this could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business. Operations in People's Republic of China (PRC) The Company's operations are mainly located in PRC and are exposed to various levels of political, regulatory, economic and other risks and uncertainties. If you are not an Eligible Shareholder, you are an Ineligible Shareholder and are not able to participate in the Entitlement Offer.

As at the time this Prospectus was lodged with ASIC and ASX, the Company has 290,240,290 Shares on issue.

Existing Option and Performance Rights holders will not be entitled to participate in the Entitlement Offer. However, they may exercise their Options or vested Performance Rights prior to the Record Date if they wish to participate in the Entitlement Offer.

The Company currently has 23,100,000 unquoted Options and 6,768,402 Performance Rights on issue. In the event that these existing Options are exercised and these existing Performance Rights vest prior to the Record Date, 7,467,100 additional New Shares will be offered pursuant to this Prospectus to raise up to a further $1,120,065.

All of the New Shares offered under this Prospectus will rank equally with the Shares on issue as at the date of this Prospectus. Please refer to section 4.6 of this Prospectus for further information regarding the rights and liabilities attaching to the New Shares.

Top Up Facility

The Entitlement Offer also includes a Top Up Facility, which entitles Eligible Shareholders who have applied for their full Entitlement to apply for any number of Additional New Shares, subject to scale back.

The Board will exercise its discretion to scale back applications for Additional New Shares in accordance with section 1.10. As such, there is no guarantee that you will receive any or all of the Additional New Shares you apply for.

The Company will not allocate or issue Additional New Shares under the Top Up Facility where it is aware that to do so would result in a breach of the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules or any other relevant regulation or law. Eligible Shareholders wishing to apply for Additional New Shares under the Top Up Facility must consider whether the issue of the Additional New Shares applied for would breach the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules or any other relevant regulation or law having regard to their own circumstances and should seek professional advice where necessary.

Please refer to section 1.9 for details on how to apply for Additional New Shares under the Top Up Facility.

1.2 Shortfall

Any Entitlements not taken up under the Entitlement Offer (including the Top Up Facility) will form the Shortfall and the Directors reserve the right, subject to the requirements of the Listing Rules and the Corporations Act, to issue the Shortfall at their discretion. The offer to issue Shortfall to investors is a separate offer under the Prospectus (Shortfall Offer). The Shortfall Offer will be on the same terms and conditions as the Entitlement Offer, except as set out in this Prospectus. The issue price for each New Share to be issued under the Shortfall Offer will be the same issue price as under the Entitlement Offer.

The Shortfall Offer is not open to the general public. Investors (which may include Eligible Shareholders) will be invited by the Directors to participate and will be provided with a copy of this Prospectus and an Application Form. It is possible there may be no Shortfall Shares available for issue. Shortfall Shares may only be offered and sold outside Australia to Institutional Investors in Permitted Jurisdictions for the Shortfall Offer.

The Shortfall will be allocated by the Directors in a manner considered appropriate having regard to the best interests of the Company.

Any Shortfall will be issued such that it is quoted within three months of the Entitlement Offer Closing Date. The Shortfall Offer will close at 5:00pm (AWST) on Friday, 5 January 2024, or such earlier date as the Directors, in their absolute discretion, determine. Accordingly, Applicants are encouraged to submit their Applications under the Shortfall Offer as soon as possible.

The Company will not allocate or issue New Shares under the Shortfall Offer where it is aware that to do so would result in a breach of the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules or any other relevant regulation or law. Applicants under the Shortfall Offer must consider whether the issue of the New Shares applied for would breach the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules or any other relevant regulation or law having regard to their own circumstances.

The Directors reserve the right to issue to an Applicant a lesser number of New Shares than the number for which the Applicant applies under the Shortfall Offer, or to reject an Application for Shortfall, or to not proceed with placing the Shortfall. In that event, application monies will be refunded by the Company (without interest) in accordance with the provisions of the Corporations Act.

Applications for Additional New Shares under the Top Up Facility may be made by completing the relevant section of their Entitlement and Acceptance Form in accordance with the instructions set out on that form. Payment for any Additional New Shares must be made in the same manner as described in section 1.8(a) of this Prospectus (at $0.15 per New Share).

The right to receive Additional New Shares which are in excess of an Eligible Shareholder's Entitlement will be determined by the Directors at their sole discretion. 2 Effect of the Offers on the Company

2.1 Effect of the Offers

The principal effects of the Offers on the Company are as follows, assuming all Entitlements are accepted, and no Options are exercised and no Performance Rights vest prior to the Record Date:

- (a) the Company will issue up to 72,560,072 New Shares and the total number of Shares on issue will increase to 362,800,362 Shares;
- (b) the cash reserves of the Company will increase by up to $10.8 million (less the expenses of the Offers) immediately after completion of the Offers; and
- (c) the equity of Eligible Shareholders who do not participate in the Offers will be diluted as is evidenced from the figures set out above.

2.2 Consolidated Balance Sheet

Set out as follows is the reviewed consolidated balance sheet of the Company at 30 June 2023.

The unaudited pro-forma balance sheet has been prepared to provide investors with information on the anticipated impact of the Offers on the assets and liabilities of the Company. The unaudited consolidated pro forma balance sheet at 30 June 2023 has been adjusted assuming maximum subscription is received under the Offers of up to 72,560,072 New Shares pursuant to this Prospectus to raise up to $10,884,011 with the estimated expenses of the Offers of approximately $130,000:

there have been no further material subsequent events since 30 June 2023.

2.3 Effect on capital structure

The anticipated effect of the Offers on the capital structure of the Company, assuming all Entitlements are accepted, and no Options are exercised and no Performance Rights vest prior to the Record Date, is set out below.

	Maximum effect of the Offers
Shares currently on issue	290,240,290
Options currently on issue ²	23,100,000
Performance Rights currently on issue	6,768,402
New Shares expected to be issued under the Offers	72,560,072
Shares on issue after completion of the Offers³	362,800,362
Options on issue after completion of the Offers	23,100,000
Performance Rights on issue after completion of the Offers	6,768,402

Notes:

- 1 Comprises 6,600,000 Options each with an exercise price of $0.45 and expiring on 11 April 2026, 7,700,000 Options each with an exercise price of $0.55 and expiring on 11 April 2027 and 8,800,000 Options each with an exercise price of $0.65 and expiring on 11 April 2027.
- 2 If all Options are exercised and all Performance Rights vest prior to the Record Date, a further 7,467,100 New Shares will be offered pursuant to this Prospectus.

The following Shares are subject to voluntary escrow:

Number of Shares	Expiry of Escrow
970,000	8 February 2024
1,720,000	4 April 2025
810,000	22 February 2026

No Options or Performance Rights on issue are subject to escrow restrictions, either voluntary or ASX imposed.

2.4 Potential impact of the Offers control of the Company

The Offers are not expected to have any significant impact on the control of the Company. The table below shows the impact of the Offers on the Company's substantial Shareholders (based on publicly available information).

Shareholder	Shares as date of Prospectus	% as at date of Prospectus	Shares on completion of the Offers	% on completion of the Offers
Mr Yuming Zhou	21,375,530	7.36%	21,375,530	5.89% ²
Mr Raymond Edward Munro + Mrs Susan Roberta Munro <Munro Family Super Fund A/C>	21,274,000	7.31%	21,274,000	5.86% ²
Ms Malaky Kazem	17,388,824	5.99%	17,388,824	4.79% ²

Notes:

1 Assumes full Entitlement is taken up under the Entitlement Offer.

2 Assumes that these shareholders do not take up their Entitlements under the Entitlement Offer.

The above table assumes that the substantial Shareholders, other than Mr Charles Chen who intends to take up his full Entitlement under the Entitlement Offer, do not take up their Entitlements under the Entitlement Offer. As at the date of this Prospectus, it is not known if any substantial Shareholders, other than Mr Charles Chen, will take up their Entitlement in full, in part or at all under the Entitlement Offer.

Assuming no existing Options are exercised and no Performance Rights vest prior to the Record Date, the maximum number of New Shares which will be issued pursuant to the Offers is 72,560,072. This equates to approximately 20% of all the issued Shares in the Company immediately following completion of the Offers.

Given that no Shareholder's interest is expected to go above 20% in contravention of section 606 of the Corporations Act, the Company has not appointed a nominee for foreign holders of the Company's Shares in accordance with section 615 of the Corporations Act as it does not expect to rely on the "rights issue" exception set out in item 10 of section 611 of the Corporations Act to the general prohibition on acquisition of shares set out in section 606 of the Corporations Act.

Shareholders should note that if they do not participate in the Offers, their holdings will be diluted by up to approximately 20% (as compared to their holdings and number of Shares on issue as at the date of the Prospectus and assuming that no existing Options are exercised and no Performance Rights vest immediately following completion of the Offers). Examples of how the dilution from the Entitlement Offer may impact Shareholders is set out below.

Shareholder	Shareholding as at Prospectus date	% shareholding as at Prospectus date	% shareholding post Offers
1	5,000,000	1.72	1.38
2	1,000,000	0.34	0.28
3	500,000	0.17	0.17
4	100,000	0.03	0.03
5	50,000	0.02	0.02

Notes:

- 1 The dilutionary effect shown in the table is the maximum percentage on the assumption that those Entitlements that are not accepted are placed to other Eligible Shareholders or third parties under the Top Up Facility or Shortfall Offer. If all Entitlements are not accepted and some or the entire resulting Shortfall was not subsequently placed, the dilution effect for each Shareholder not accepting their Entitlement would be a lesser percentage.

3 Risk Factors

3.1 Introduction

This section identifies the areas that the Directors regard as the major risks associated with an investment in the Company. Investors should be aware that an investment in the Company involves many risks, which may be higher than the risks associated with an investment in other companies. Intending investors should read the whole of this Prospectus in order to fully appreciate such matters and the manner in which the Company intends to operate before any decision is made to apply for Shares.

There are numerous widespread risks associated with investing in any form of business and with investing in the share market generally. There is also a range of specific risks associated with the Company's business. These risk factors are largely beyond the control of the Company and its Directors because of the nature of the business of the Company. The following summary, which is not exhaustive, represents some of the major risk factors which potential investors need to be aware of.

3.2 Risks specific to the Offers

Potential for dilution

Upon completion of the Offers, assuming all Entitlements are accepted, and no Options are exercised and no Performance Rights vest prior to the Record Date, the number of Shares in the Company will increase from 290,240,290 to 362,800,362. This equates to approximately 20% of all the issued Shares in the Company immediately following completion of the Offers (assuming that no existing Options are exercised and no existing Performance Rights vest prior to that date).

This means that each Share will represent a lower proportion of the ownership of the Company. It is not possible to predict what the value of the Company or a New Share will be following the completion of the Offers and the Directors do not make any representation to such matters.

The last trading price of Shares on ASX prior to the Prospectus being lodged is not a reliable indicator as to the potential trading price of New Shares following completion of the Offers.

3.3 Risks specific to the Company

Expansion risk

The Company's ability to successfully develop its business and effectively implement its business plan within the timeframe that it is aiming to achieve, will depend in part on its ability to raise the funds for its expansion. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to secure any additional funding or be able to secure funding on terms favourable to the Company.

Existing funds (including the funds raised under the Offers) will not be sufficient for expenditure required for certain aspects of the Company's business plan, including the development of manufacturing facilities in Nanjing, China and investment in additional manufacturing facilities.

Any additional equity financing may dilute shareholdings, and debt financing, if available, may involve restrictions on financing and operating activities. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to secure any additional funding or will be able to secure funding on terms favourable to the Company.

Construction risk

As announced on 6 September 2023, the Company has entered into a construction agreement to construct manufacturing facilities on the recently acquired industrial land in the Lishui Economic Development Zone in Nanjing, China. The manufacturing facilities will be funded progressively via cash and debt, including funds raised from the Offer (refer to Section 1.3 for further details), with completion scheduled for September 2024. There is an inherent risk that the Company might not be able to achieve this in the expected timeframe or in a cost effective manner.

The construction of any new manufacturing facilities in Nanjing, China or elsewhere is dependent on a number of contingencies, some of which are beyond the Company's control. These contingencies include but are not limited to: obtaining all necessary licences and permits; accessing additional labour; accessing and securing plant and equipment; and securing the delivery of production machinery from third party manufacturers of the scale required in a cost and time effective manner.

There is a risk that significant unanticipated costs or delays could arise due to errors or omissions, unforeseen technical issues (such as major equipment failures), increases in plant and equipment costs, inadequate contractual arrangements, labour difficulties or unusually adverse weather conditions. Should significant unanticipated costs or delays arise, this could have a material adverse impact on the Company's business, financial performance and operations.

The Company's expansion of manufacturing facilities may also place increased demands on the Company's management, operating systems, internal controls and physical resources. If not managed effectively, these increased demands may adversely affect the Company's financial position and ability to meet customer demands. In addition, the Company's personnel, systems, procedures and controls may be inadequate to support future operations. In order to manage this expansion effectively, the Company may be required to increase expenditures to increase its physical resources, expand, train or manage its employee base and improve management, financial and information systems and controls.

The Company's operations, financial condition and growth objectives are likely to be materially adversely affected if it is not able to manage effectively the budgeting, contraction, forecasting or other process control issues presented by constructing a new manufacturing facility and scaling up its operations.

New technology

Given the Company operates in an industry involving electric vehicle technology, any technological obsolescence could have an impact on our financial results. The Company seeks to mitigate this risk through continued investment in research and development, patent appropriate and necessary research and development results, recruitment of competent technicians and constantly monitoring the market. If the Company's technology is superseded, it could have an adverse impact on the Company's financial results.

Protection and ownership of intellectual property

The Company's financial performance may depend on its ability to safeguard and commercial exploit its intellectual property. The Company relies on patents to protect its proprietary intellectual property. A substantial part of the Company's commercial success will depend on its ability to maintain, establish and protect its intellectual property without infringing on the proprietary rights of third parties. No assurance can be given that any pending patent applications or any future patent applications will result in granted patents, that any patents will be granted on a timely basis, that the scope of any copyright or patent protection will exclude competitors or provide competitive advantages to the Company, that any of the Company's patents will be held valid if challenged, or that third parties will not claim rights in or ownership of the copyright, patents and other proprietary rights held by the Company.

Any claims made against the Company's patents or other intellectual property rights, even without merit, could be time consuming and expensive to defend and could have a materially adverse effect on the Company's resources. A third party asserting infringement claims against the Company could require the Company to cease the infringing activity and/or require the Company to enter into licensing and royalty arrangements. The third party could also take legal action which could be costly. The Company may also be required to develop alternative non-infringing solutions that may require significant time and substantial unanticipated resources. There can be no assurance that such claims will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial condition or results.

Research and development risk

The Company is engaged in designing, developing and manufacturing electric vehicles. There is no guarantee that the Company will be successful in its future research and product development. The Company may not be able to develop new technologies sufficiently to enable it to develop commercial and marketable products. The ability of the Company to develop new technology relies partly on the recruitment of appropriately qualified staff and engagement of third parties. The Company may be unable to find a sufficient number of appropriately highly trained individuals to satisfy its growth rate which could affect its ability to develop new technologies as planned. In addition, new products may face potential regulatory barriers which, by their nature, will vary, for example, by application, geography, or volume of business and are difficult to anticipate at present.

Key business relationships

In February 2020, the Company entered into a joint investment agreement with Super Soco to establish a jointly owned Chinese registered manufacturing company, Nanjing Vmoto Soco Intelligent Technology Co, Ltd (Vmoto Soco Manufacturing). Pursuant to the joint venture agreement, the Company and Super Soco each own 50% of the issued capital of Vmoto Soco Manufacturing. Any changes in the business cooperation and relationship with Super Soco could adversely impact upon the Company, its business, development, financial condition, operating results or prospects.

In addition, the Company also relies significantly on maintaining good relationships with other entities (including with its customers, suppliers, distributors, sub-distributors and contract manufacturers) and also on maintaining good relationships with the Chinese regulatory and government (including regional government) departments. There can be no assurance that the Company's existing relationships will continue or that new ones will be successfully formed and the Company could be adversely affected by changes to such relationships or difficulties in forming new ones. Any circumstance which causes the early termination or non-renewal of one of these key business relationships could adversely impact upon the Company, its business, development, financial condition, operating results or prospects.

Dependence on third party suppliers

The Company relies on a number of third party suppliers for the manufacture of its products. If a supplier fails to provide services or products on time or to the required standard, and particularly where an alternative source of service or supply is not readily available, this could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business.

Operations in People's Republic of China (PRC)

The Company's operations are mainly located in PRC and are exposed to various levels of political, regulatory, economic and other risks and uncertainties. These risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to, economic, social or political instability or change; currency exchange rates; high rates of inflation; labour unrest; working conditions; labour relations; renegotiation or nullification of existing concessions, licenses, permits and contracts; changes in taxation policies; restrictions on foreign exchange; changing political conditions; currency controls and governmental regulations that favour or require the awarding of contracts to local contractors or require foreign contractors to employ citizens of, or purchase supplies from, a particular jurisdiction.

Changes, if any, in policies or shifts in political attitude in PRC may adversely affect the Company's operations or profitability. Operations may be affected in varying degrees by governmental regulations with respect to, but not limited to: restrictions on manufacturing; price controls; export controls; currency remittance; income taxes and foreign investment. Failure to comply strictly with applicable laws, regulations and local practices relating to manufacturing, could result in loss, reduction or expropriation of entitlements. The occurrence of these various factors adds uncertainties that cannot be accurately predicted and could have an adverse effect on the Company's operations or profitability.

Reliance on key personnel

The Company's prospects depend in part on the ability of its executive officers, senior management and key consultants to operate effectively, both independently and as a group. The loss of the services of one or more of such key management personnel could have an adverse effect on the Company. The Company's ability to manage its activities, and hence its success, will depend in large part on the efforts of these individuals. Investors must be willing to rely to a significant extent on management's discretion and judgement, as well as the expertise and competence of outside contractors.

Employee recruitment and retention

The successful operation of the Company relies on its ability to attract and retain a critical number of employees to fulfil its product orders and maintain manufacturing efficiency. If the Company is unable to attract and retain employees, including by failing to offer more attractive terms of employment to the local working population in Nanjing, it may:

- negatively impact the Company's sales which are highly dependent on the ability of employees to sell its products through the application of their product knowledge, understanding of the electric vehicle and ability to take advantage of established customer relationships; and
- have an adverse effect on the Group's operations and expansion plans and result in a material increase in employment costs.

Growth Strategy – Expansion

An aspect of the Company's strategy includes growing by acquisition of businesses or land (including into additional geographical territories) and organic growth of the existing businesses. The acquisition process involves dealing with third parties, regulatory bodies and other aggregators of suitable businesses. Obtaining those businesses is therefore subject to the actions of third parties outside of the Company's control, including any constraints imposed by local regulatory regimes. There is no guarantee that the Company will be able to obtain such businesses on conditions acceptable to the Company, or obtain them in a timely manner. Any delay or failure to secure such businesses will limit the Company's ability to increase its revenues and adversely affect its future financial performance.

Competition

The Company operates in the electric two-wheel vehicle industry and expects additional competitors to enter this market that may have greater financial, research and development, marketing, distribution and other resources. The Directors believe that the Company can compete in this market due to its first mover advantage, having operated in the electric two-wheel vehicle markets since 2009. The Company manufactures its products in China and has an established, comprehensive supply chain for parts required to manufacture electric two-wheel vehicles and an established distribution network, currently comprising 65 countries. However, entry of new competitors, a change in the industry's competitive dynamics or a general increase in the level of competition may adversely impact the Company's revenue, profitability and growth prospects.

Regulatory risk

The Company operates in a highly regulated industry, and is subject to various licencing requirements, regulatory clearances, regulations, tax laws and workplace health and safety laws, in connection with its operations. Any change or failure to comply with these laws or regulations could impact the economic environment, general market conditions, or specifically impact the Company's current business model, its compliance costs, or capital expenditure requirements. Further, it could result in the imposition of criminal or civil liability or restrictions on the Company's operations that could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, results of operations or financial position.

Changes in legislation, regulatory policies or the discovery of regulatory problems with the Company's operations, products or their manufacture may result in the imposition of restrictions on the Company's products or manufacturing operations which may have an adverse impact on the Company's business.

People's Republic of China (PRC) legal system

Due to uncertainties in the PRC political and legal environment, the Company may be exposed to political and legal risks which may adversely affect the viability of its operations in PRC. Similarly, the Company may be exposed to risks around contractual enforcement in PRC.

Although the legal system in PRC is well-established, it may be less certain than legal systems in other countries. This uncertainty could lead to the following risks:

- difficulties in obtaining effective legal redress for breaches of laws or regulations or in respect of confidentiality protections or intellectual property rights;
- inconsistencies between and within laws, regulations, decrees, orders and resolutions, or uncertainty in the application of these laws and regulations;
- difficulties in enforcing foreign judgments and arbitral awards, particularly against state bodies; and
- lack of jurisprudence and administrative guidance on the application of laws and regulations, particularly with respect to taxation and proprietary rights.

Therefore, the Company may have difficulty in obtaining effective legal redress in circumstances where the Company or its subsidiaries are adversely affected by a breach of law or regulation.

Health, safety and industrial accidents

Due to the nature of its operations and services, the Company's employees are exposed to varying degrees of risk in the workplace. These risks may include exposure to dangerous situations or materials and have the potential to result in personal injury or death. The Company is responsible for the safety and security of its employees and of third-party personnel and, accordingly, must implement adequate health and safety procedures. Health and safety incidents can result in losses and liability and serious health issues, which could have a material effect on the Company's results of operations and overall financial condition. Furthermore, such incidents can result in violations of various health and safety laws and regulations to which the Company is subject that could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, reputation, results of operations and financial performance.

Maintenance of reputation

The success of the Company is reliant on its reputation. Reputational damage could arise due to a number of circumstances, including inadequate service, poor quality products or failure to comply with legislation or regulation applicable to the Company's business. Reputational damage may impact the Company's ability to maintain relationships with existing and new customers and result in a fall in sales. If this were to occur, the Company's financial performance may be negatively impacted.

Product defects and/or failure

Product failures, defects or recalls could materially affect the Company's reputation, earnings and revenue. If any claim or issue arising from a product defect or failure is determined adversely to the Company, and the Company's existing insurance arrangements do not cover the liability, this could have a materially adverse effect on the operating and financial performance of the Company.

Warranty risk

The Company may provide warranties covering parts and/or services provided. The provision of warranties exposes the Company to risks which would not otherwise be exposed as a retailer. For example, the provision of warranties exposes the Company to risks associated with the performance of its electric vehicles and parts to which the warranty relates. Any increase in the number of claims under these warranties for which the Company has made provision for may have an adverse effect on the Company's expenses and may negatively impact on the Company's financial performance.

Foreign exchange risk

The Company's operating and capital expenditures are typically incurred in currencies other than Australian dollars (including Renminbi and United States dollars) and revenue from the sale of electric vehicles is also in currencies other than Australian dollars. Any fluctuations in the exchange rates between these currencies and the Australian dollar could have a material adverse effect on the Company's business, financial position and operating results.

Insurance risk

The Company seeks to maintain appropriate insurances for its business given its industry and operations. Insurances need to be renewed on an annual basis and those renewals may result in insurance premiums increasing with an adverse effect on the financial performance of the Company. Alternatively, insurances may not be available on terms which are economic in light of the risks they protect against, resulting in the Company self-insuring against those risks. If those risks ultimately arise, they may have an adverse effect on the financial position and performance of the Company.

Litigation risk

The Company may in the ordinary course of business be involved in litigation and disputes. Any litigation or dispute could be costly and damaging to the Company's reputation and business relationships, which could have an adverse effect on its financial performance and industry standing.

3.4 General Risks

Economic Risks

General economic conditions, movements in interest and inflation rates and currency exchange rates may have an adverse effect on the Company's activities, as well as on its ability to fund those activities and to receive future dividends.

Further, security market conditions may affect the value of the Company's quoted securities regardless of the Company's operating performance. Security market conditions are affected by many factors such as general economic outlook; interest rates and inflation rates; currency fluctuations; changes in investor sentiment toward particular market sectors; the demand for, and supply of, capital; and terrorism or other hostilities.

Unforeseen expenses

The Company may be subject to significant unforeseen expenses or actions. This may include unplanned operating expenses, future legal actions or expenses in relation to future unforeseen events. The Directors expect that the Company will have adequate working capital to carry out its stated objectives however there is the risk that additional funds may be required to fund the Company's future objectives.

Taxation risk

The acquisition and disposal of Shares (including New Shares) will have tax consequences which will differ for each Shareholder depending on their individual financial circumstances. All Shareholders in the Company are urged to obtain independent financial advice regarding the tax and other consequences of acquiring Shares. To the maximum extent permitted by law, the Company, its officers and each of their respective advisers accept no liability or responsibility with respect to any tax consequences of applying for New Shares under this Prospectus.

Accounting standards

Changes to any applicable accounting standards or to any assumptions, estimates or judgments applied by management in connection with accounting matters may adversely impact the Company's financial position, results or condition.

Securities market risk

The market price of the Company's Shares could fluctuate significantly. The market price of the Company's Shares may fluctuate based on a number of factors including the Company's operating performance and the performance of competitors and other similar companies, the public's reaction to the Company's press releases, other public announcements and the Company's filings with the various securities regulatory authorities, changes in earnings estimates or recommendations by research analysts who track the Company's Shares or the shares of other companies in the resource sector, changes in general economic conditions, the number of the Company's Shares publicly traded and the arrival or departure of key personnel, acquisitions, strategic alliances or joint ventures involving the Company or its competitors.

In addition, the market price of the Company's Shares are affected by many variables not directly related to the Company's success and are therefore not within the Company's control, including other developments that affect the market for all resource sector shares, the breadth of the public market for the Company's Shares, and the attractiveness of alternative investments.

Speculative nature of investment

The above list of risk factors ought not to be taken as exhaustive of the risks faced by the Company or by investors in the Company. The above factors, and others not specifically referred to above, may in the future materially affect the financial performance of the Company and the value of Shares.

4 Additional Information

4.1 Continuous disclosure obligations

The Company is a "disclosing entity" (as defined in section 111AC of the Corporations Act) and is subject to the regime of continuous disclosure and periodic reporting requirements. Specifically, as a listed company, the Company is subject to the Listing Rules which require continuous disclosure to the market of any information possessed by the Company which a reasonable person would expect to have a material effect on the price or value of its Shares.

The Board has adopted a policy on compliance with the Listing Rules which sets out the obligations of the Directors, officers and employees to ensure the Company satisfies the continuous disclosure obligations imposed by the Listing Rules and the Corporations Act. The policy provides information as to what a person should do when they become aware of information which could have a material effect on the Company's securities and the consequences of non-compliance.

4.2 Legal framework of this Prospectus

As a "disclosing entity", the Company has issued this Prospectus in accordance with section 713 of the Corporations Act applicable to prospectuses for an offer of securities which are quoted enhanced disclosure (ED) securities and the securities are in a class of securities that were quoted ED securities at all times in the 3 months before the issue of this Prospectus.

This Prospectus is a "transaction specific prospectus". In general terms, a transaction specific prospectus is only required to contain information in relation to the effect of the issue of securities on a company and the rights attaching to the securities. It is not necessary to include general information in relation to all of the assets and liabilities, financial position, profits and losses or prospects of the issuing company.

This Prospectus is intended to be read in conjunction with the publicly available information in relation to the Company which has been notified to ASX and does not include all of the information that would be included in a prospectus for an initial public offering of securities in an entity that is not already listed on a stock exchange. Investors should therefore have regard to the other publicly available information in relation to the Company before making a decision whether or not to invest.

Having taken such precautions and having made such enquiries as are reasonable, the Company believes that it has complied with the requirements of ASX as applicable to disclosing entities from time to time, and which require the Company to notify ASIC of information available to the stock market conducted by ASX, throughout the 3 months before the issue of this Prospectus.

Information that is already in the public domain has not been reported in this Prospectus other than that which is considered necessary to make this Prospectus complete.

4.3 Information available to Shareholders

4.4 Corporate Governance

To the extent that they are applicable to the Company, the Board has adopted the ASX Corporate Governance Council's Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations where the Board has considered the recommendation to be an appropriate benchmark for its corporate governance practices. Where, after due consideration, the Company's corporate governance practices depart from a recommendation, the Board has disclosed the reasons for the departure in its Corporate Governance Statement for the financial year ended 31 December 2022. This can be found in the Company's Appendix 4G dated 31 March 2023.

A summary of the Company's corporate governance policies and procedures is available on the Company's website at www.vmoto.com.

4.5 Agreements with Directors and related parties

- (a) The Company's policy in respect of related party arrangements is:
 - (i) a Director with a material personal interest in a matter is required to give notice to the other Directors before such a matter is considered by the Board; and

- (ii) for the Board to consider such a matter, the Director who has a material personal interest is not present while the matter is being considered at the meeting and does not vote on the matter.
- (b) The Company does not intend to issue any securities to Directors or other related parties at this time, other than up to the extent of their Entitlement under the Entitlement Offer. If Directors or related parties apply for Additional New Shares under the Top Up Facility or Shortfall under the Shortfall Offer, the Company will be required to obtain Shareholder approval.

4.6 Rights and Liabilities Attaching to New Shares

The New Shares to be issued pursuant to this Prospectus will rank equally in all respects with existing Shares in the Company.

Full details of the rights and liabilities attaching to the Company's Shares are set out in its Constitution, a copy of which can be inspected at the Company's registered office.

The following is a summary of the principal rights and liabilities which attach to the Company's Shares:

(a) Voting

Every holder of Shares present in person or by proxy, attorney or representative at a meeting of Shareholders has one vote on a vote taken by a show of hands, and, on a poll every holder of Shares who is present in person or by proxy, attorney or representative has one vote for every fully paid Share held by him or her, and a proportionate vote for every partly paid Share, registered in such Shareholder's name on the Company's Register.

At any general meeting a resolution put to the vote of the meeting must be decided on a show of hands unless a poll is effectively demanded and the demand is not withdrawn.

(b) Dividends

Subject to the Corporations Act, the Listing Rules, this Constitution and the rights of any person entitled to shares with special rights to dividend, the Directors may determine that a dividend is payable, fix the amount and the time for payment and authorise the payment or crediting by the Company to, or at the direction of, each Shareholder entitled to that dividend.

(c) Transfer of Shares

A Shareholder may transfer Shares by a market transfer in accordance with any computerised or electronic system established or recognised by the Listing Rules or the Corporations Act for the purpose of facilitating transfers in Shares or by any other method of transfer which is required or permitted by the Corporations Act and the Listing Rules.

If permitted by the Listing Rules, the Directors of the Company may: (a) request any applicable CS Facility Operator to apply a holding lock to prevent a transfer of shares in the Company from being registered on the CS Facility's sub-register; or (b) refuse to register a transfer of shares in the Company to which paragraph (a) does not apply.

(d) Meetings and Notice

Each Shareholder is entitled to receive notice of and to attend general meetings for the Company and to receive all notices, accounts and other documents required to be sent to Shareholders under the Constitution of the Company, the Corporations Act or the Listing Rules.

(e) Liquidation Rights

If the Company is wound up, the liquidator may, with the authority of a special resolution, divide among the Shareholders in specie or in kind the whole or any part of the property of the Company, and may for that purpose set such value as it considers fair upon any property to be so divided, and may determine how the division is to be carried out as between the Shareholders or different classes of Shareholders.

(f) Shareholder Liability

As the Shares under the Prospectus are fully paid Shares, they are not subject to any calls for money by the Directors and will therefore not become liable for forfeiture.

(g) Alteration to the Constitution

The Constitution can only be amended by a special resolution passed by at least three quarters of Shareholders entitled to vote on the resolution. At least 28 days' written notice, specifying the intention to propose the resolution as a special resolution must be given.

(h) ASX Listing Rules

The Company is admitted to the Official List, therefore despite anything in the Constitution of the Company, if the Listing Rules prohibit an act being done, the act must not be done. Nothing in the Constitution prevents an act being done that the Listing Rules require to be done. If the Listing Rules require an act to be done or not to be done, authority is given for that act to be done or not to be done (as the case may be). If the Listing Rules require the Constitution to contain a provision or not to contain a provision the Constitution is deemed to contain that provision or not to contain that provision (as the case may be). If a provision of the Constitution is or becomes inconsistent with the Listing Rules, the Constitution is deemed not to contain that provision to the extent of the inconsistency.
