Macmahon awarded new work in Indonesia

Macmahon Holdings Limited (ASX:MAH) today announced the award of a five year contract valued at approximately US$170 million to provide mining services at the Martabe gold mine, in the North Sumatran province of Indonesia.

The contract was awarded by PT Agincourt Resources and will be delivered by Macmahon in a 50:50 joint venture with a leading Indonesian contractor. The award follows a competitive tendering process involving several mining contractors from Australia and Indonesia.

Under the contract, the joint venture will provide the full scope of mining and bulk earthworks related services, including drill and blast, mining of waste materials, equipment hire and subcontractor management across three operating areas. Additionally, the contract requires the placement and compaction of material on the tailings storage facility embankments and pioneering works associated with access to new open pit mining areas.

Macmahon Chief Executive Officer, Sy van Dyk said the award of this contract further strengthened Macmahon's presence in South East Asia.

"This contract builds on Macmahon's strong track record of delivering safe, quality mining operations in the region and provides a solid foundation from which we can continue to grow our presence," Mr van Dyk said.

"We are very pleased to have secured this work and look forward to a long and rewarding association with our joint venture partner.

"We also welcome the opportunity to further strengthen the positive relationship we have developed with our new client during the tender process", he said.

The contract will commence in January 2016.
